U.S. 'drifting'

Candidates sound off—so is sound

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — The third and final presidential debate of 1976 was heard by tens of millions of people. But not the 658 persons who saw it live.

The sound system in the Phi Betta Kappa Theater was more suited to the intimate debates that marked the learned society's start 200 years ago than the modern electronic miracle that carried the words of the presidential contenders to an entire nation.

The guests in the theater on the campus of the College of William and Mary could hear only snatches of the exchanges and then it took some straining.

The situation was a new version of the sound troubles at the first debate in Philadelphia, when electronic troubles cut off the television and radio sound and delayed the debate for 27 minutes.

The audience here did see the two men addressing one another directly for the first time in the three debates and even agreeing once.

That was when Jimmy Carter said he shared with President Ford the view that the choice of a running mate was most important.

And, in a debate that could have become acrimonious, Carter passed up an opportunity to comment on whether President Ford should give a more detailed explanation about whether the Nixon White House asked him to stop a congressional investigation of Watergate in the fall of 1972.

Ford has said it did not.

When the debate was over, Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, called it "one of the more enlightening, intelligent discussion of the issues."

He said that Ford was "not following the line of his paid media (advertising)" and had avoided negative and personal attacks.

Indeed, Carter pledged that in the remaining 10 days of the campaign, "the American people will not see a Carter campaign based on personal attacks."

Ford, too, made a pledge — that "we do together what we can to stimulate voter participation."

Ford says 'nation is healed,' Carter claims U.S. 'drifting'

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — President Ford and Jimmy Carter cautiously debated issues ranging from abortion and civil rights to the economy and campaign tactics Friday night, then concluded their nationally-televised confrontations as they began — each arguing that he is a leader and the other a pretender.

The first signal of voter reaction indicated that Democrat Carter had been judged the victor in the rubber match of three presidential campaign debates.

The final summations in Williamsburg went to the point raised in the opening statements of their first debate in Philadelphia: the qualifications of the Republican President and the Democratic nominee to lead the nation for the next four years.

"For the last two years, I've been the President, and I have found from experience that it's much more difficult to make those decisions than it is to second-guess them," Ford said.

Ford said the nation is healed after a troubled time, is working together and "the American people are moving again, and moving in the right direction."

But Carter said the Republican administration has not provided leadership.

"Mr. Ford is a good and decent man, but he's been in office now for more than 800 days ... I'd like to ask the American people what's been accomplished," Carter said. He added that he offers no magic answers to the nation's problems, "but I believe together we can achieve great things."

"I believe the American people are ready for a change in Washington," Carter said. "We've been drifting too long, we've been dormant too long, we've been discouraged too long."

Through much of the 90-minute debate, both Ford and Carter avoided direct attacks. There was an air of studied politeness. Gone were the sardonic tones Carter took in San Francisco, the hard line with which Ford keynoted the opening debate in Philadelphia.

But there were infrequent slaps, each at the other. Carter, for example, listened to Ford boast of administration economic policies and said "with all due respect to President Ford, I think he ought to be ashamed of making that statement" with 7½ million people out of work. And Ford said Carter has slipped in the public opinion polls, although still leading, because the Democrat "is inconsistent in many of the positions that he takes ..."

But it was not the strident stuff of the campaign platform, or of some points in the previous debates. When the debate was over, the candidates met in center stage, smiling, shaking hands, exchanging the private words of men who know that next time they meet, one will be President-elect and one will be a loser.

Their familiar economic litanies came up repeatedly.

Carter attacked national unemployment and inflation problems as the fault of the administration, while Ford said "I don't think America can go on a big spending spree with a whole lot of new programs that would add significantly to the federal budget."

Some of the topics they touched on which had not been discussed in their previous debates included these:

—PLAYBOY INTERVIEW: Carter said in retrospect he wished he had not granted an interview to the men's magazine in which he discussed lust of the heart and other sexual topics in a context of his religious beliefs.

—ABORTION: Ford repeated his support for a constitutional amendment which would give states the right to limit abortions. Carter again said he personally opposes abortion but would not favor a constitutional amendment.

—SCHOOL PRAYER: Ford here too said he would favor a constitutional amendment providing for voluntary prayer in public schools. Carter said he would not lend support to such a change.

—HANDGUN CONTROL: Carter said the only purpose of handgun registration would be to prohibit ownership by those proven incompetent to own a gun. Ford said registration doesn't work in jurisdictions where it has been required, and that the remedy for gun problems is near-certain jail sentences for persons convicted of using a gun in crime.

—SUPREME COURT: Carter endorsed what he called the progress of both the Warren and Burger courts. Ford said he was glad the court was modifying the decade-old Miranda decision which requires police to warn arrested persons of their rights to remain silent and have the services of an attorney.

Both candidates, however, seemed determined to avoid anything that could be called mudslinging and to deal with a problem raised in one early question: why has the campaign focused on side issues and personal attacks instead of the long-term concerns of the voters?

In response, both nominees pledged a higher tone in the remaining 10 days before balloting Nov. 2.

Ford reveals he enjoyed final debate

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — President Ford said he enjoyed Friday night's final debate with Democratic nominee Jimmy Carter, but he tarried only a few minutes at a post-debate rally in a jammed college gymnasium.

"It went very well," Ford said as he left the Phi Betta Kappa hall after the 90-minute debate. "I'm optimistic. I enjoyed it."

Ford, his wife and daughter Susan drove with Virginia Gov. Mills Godwin to a crowded gymnasium on the campus of the College of William and Mary after the debate.

The President introduced his family to the crowd, made up mostly of students, listened to Pearl Bailey sing "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" and left after thanking the crowd. He was there about 10 minutes and Carter arrived a few minutes after his departure.

The Fords planned to spend the night at the Virginia governor's mansion in Richmond.

Ford had been cheered by White House employes as he departed Washington earlier in the day. And he said he hoped to be able to "pull off the political surprise of the century."

President of Ireland resigns post

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — President Cearbhall O'Dalaigh resigned Friday in a bitter name-calling dispute with Ireland's coalition government over tough new antiterrorist laws making it easier to jail and hold Irish Republican Army (IRA) guerrillas.

The action of the 65-year-old president, whose name is spelled Carroll O'Daly in English, is expected to touch off a major constitutional crisis that could have far-reaching effects on the presidency.

The resignation came four days after a simmering feud with Prime Minister Liam Cosgrave's government erupted into the open.

32 now recovered after ferry tragedy

10 more bodies found in river

LULING, La. (AP) — Divers found ten more bodies Friday in the mud of the Mississippi River where the ferry George Prince sank after being rammed, capsized and sunk by a 664-foot Norwegian tanker. Eighteen persons survived and 32 bodies have been recovered.

The bodies were the first located since Wednesday when the ferry sank in the gray hours just before dawn, spilling screaming passengers and vehicles into the chilly water.

Officials have estimated that 75 persons died in the collision and fear many of the bodies will be lost forever in the swift, muddy river.

The bodies located Friday were some distance from the previous focal point of the search, and officials said their location indicated the victims were thrown off in the collision. The ferry had been pushed upstream by the tanker Frosta before it sank.

During the day Friday workers refloated the ferry exposing the huge V-shaped hole in the port side where the tanker struck. The impact had crumpled the steel deck of the ferry and sliced almost to the pilothouse amidships — a distance wide enough for two cars to park side-by-side.

The ship struck the ferry almost dead center. It apparently broke open one of the twin pontoons on which the 155-foot ferry rode in catamaran-fashion. However, the pilothouse stood almost unmarked in the middle of the deck. Glass was still in its windows.

One investigator said the body of the pilot was not found in the wheelhouse "where it should have been." The Coast Guard said no bodies were found in the wheelhouse, that all from the ferry were in the passenger compartment.

However, Fred Hurt, 33, a diver, said Friday he took 12 bodies from the sunken ferry, and two came from the pilot house. He said he did not know if the pilot was one of them.

Hurt said another diver brought up seven bodies, five from the engine room, one from a passageway leading to the crew's quarters, and one from the crew's quarters.

At public expense

Medicaid abortions ruled legal by judge

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge in Brooklyn ruled Friday that Medicaid patients are entitled to abortions at public expense, on the same basis as they are reimbursed for pregnancy and child birth.

U.S. District Judge John Dooling Jr. said that under the law, abortion is a woman's constitutional right, and she may not be barred from exercising that right because she lacks money.

Dooling said Congress was mistaken if it thought a ban on abortions paid for by Medicaid would save the taxpayers money. He said "the alternative costs for medical assistance during prenatal care, at birth and after are very much greater."

Dooling cited the bitter disagreement between proabortionists and so-called right-to-life groups and said the government had no right to intervene on either side — either by compelling abortion as a means of population control or by denying medical aid to women who believe in abortion.

The suit was filed by Cora McRae, and Dooling granted it status of a class action — meaning it applies to all women. His decision has the force of law in all 50 states, unless it is upset on appeal.

Dooling's decision came a day after U.S. Dist. Judge John Sirica in Washington dismissed a similar suit by low-income women from Virginia and the District of Columbia. They tried to block the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare from implementing the law barring Medicaid payments for abortion.

Sirica said the women had failed to show the law would prevent the District of Columbia or Virginia from paying for abortions. The law prohibits Medicaid payment for abortions performed as a "method of family planning or for emotional or social convenience."

Dooling, on Oct. 2, issued a temporary order restraining the government from limiting the use of Medicaid funds for abortion pending his final decision.

Rains clog streets, cut power, bring a touch of snow

Valley weekend starts with a splash

A sudden thundershower brought heavy rains to parts of the valley late Friday afternoon, clogging streets during the rush hour, causing brief power outages in the football areas and capping Mt. Baldy with a touch of snow.

A cloudburst in La Verne late Friday night flooded streets, left many areas without electricity and sent a large crowd home early and wet from the Damien-Garey High School football game.

By comparison with other southland areas, however, the valley escaped the worst of the storm.

A young woman identified as Margie Burmeister was killed in the Sylmar vicinity when a six-foot wall of water rushed down a foothill gully and swept her off her feet and pinned her beneath the wheel of a parked truck. She drowned before she could be pulled free.

Mudslides were also reported, along with the hail, in the foothill areas stretching from Sylmar to Tujunga and Sunland.

Very heavy rains also fell in the Victorville and Apple Valley regions of San Bernardino County, stranding many motorists. Sheriff's deputies with four-wheel-drive vehicles rescued several drivers.

Flash flood warnings were out for most desert and mountain areas through the night and were expected to continue through tonight when skies are expected to clear.

Locally, the thundershower dropped .35 inches of rain in downtown Pomona, with fairly heavy amounts also reported to have fallen in La Verne, Claremont, Upland, Ontario and Montclair.

A lightning bolt struck a 100-foot tall pine tree in the 2200 block of Sixth Street in La Verne. Although there was no fire, police said the tree was blown apart as though a charge of dynamite had been set off. Fortunately, no one was injured and no structures were damaged.

Police around the valley reported a rash of minor traffic accidents on the slick streets, but there were apparently no serious injuries.

Overwhelming favorite

Blacks in cities choose Carter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jimmy Carter is the overwhelming favorite among urban black voters, according to a poll of blacks in 15 major metropolitan areas released Friday.

Nearly 95 per cent of blacks who planned to vote chose Carter over President Ford, the survey said. But the poll found one black in three was undecided or planned not to vote.

The poll is believed to be the first face-to-face survey of blacks by blacks in the nation's 15 largest black urban areas, said Thomas Rhue, a Stanford assistant professor who directed the effort.

Rhue said he conducted the poll because "nobody asks blacks what we think about issues on a continuing basis." The poll's respondent rate was over 90 per cent, due in part to the use of all black interviewers, he said.

Black city dwellers were asked "Who are you voting for President?" Only 3.4 per cent of the respondents chose President Ford. The poll showed 61.5 per cent for Carter, 19.7 per cent undecided, 14.9 per cent not voting.

Rhue said apathy did not explain the large numbers of blacks who were undecided or didn't plan to vote.

"Many people are consciously not voting because they think voting will make no difference," the sociologist said.

Those surveyed also were asked to identify the "most important issues" concerning them. Employment, education and crime were named the most often.

Researchers found some variation in responses among geographic regions and among age groups, but Rhue said there was a "national sentiment" of little optimism among blacks.

"There's a sense of disillusionment," he said. "I think there is a general attitude that improvement in race relations are at a standstill, indeed may be going backwards."

The survey data showed two-thirds of the respondents felt conditions for blacks were about the same or worse.

Researchers interviewed 589 blacks representative of the 7.8 million blacks who reside in the 15 cities and calculated a 4 per cent statistical error. Working from census tract data, they selected blocks which had 40 per cent or more black residents.

Cities included in the survey were Los Angeles, Dallas, Houston, New Orleans, Atlanta, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelpia, Newark, New York, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago and Memphis.

Farm labor initiative battle continues

Tunney, Hayakawa meet, set for debate

By The Associated Press

U.S. Sen. John Tunney and Republican challenger S.I. Hayakawa met privately with aides Friday in preparation for their first televised debate Saturday night.

And the battle over advertisements against the Cesar Chavez-sponsored farm labor initiative churned along Friday with foes of Prop. 14 winning rounds with ABC and the Federal Communications Commission.

Hayakawa had only one brief public appearance Friday. Tunney had none as they separately prepared for their hour-long confrontation on a Los Angeles television station.

Hayakawa told the Los Angeles Rotary Club that Tunney's proposals to reduce unemployment are "long on campaign gimmickry and short on basic math."

He criticized a Tunney proposal to give tax credits to employers who hire people who have been jobless for at least 13 weeks, saying that would benefit only 7 per cent of the unemployed.

Tunney, meanwhile, picked up the support, if not exactly an endorsement, from Republican Congressman Pete McCloskey, who told a high school class in Sunnyvale Friday that he will not vote for his party's nominee.

"I'm going to vote for Tunney. No one 70 years old should be elected to the Senate for the first time," McCloskey said of Hayakawa.

McCloskey press aide Bill Johnson said later the comments were not intended to be an endorsement.

"There is a narrow line, but he (McCloskey) has refrained from endorsino John Tunney, although he has said publicly he will vote for Tunney because he thinks Tunney has grown in the job," Johnson said.

In the Prop. 14 battle, the FCC in Washington D.C. rejected a request that ads against the initiative be banned from radio and television as "false and misleading."

And ABC, which had ordered a review of the commercials, announced Friday that it would continue to air them.

The commercials allege that Prop. 14 violates constitutional rights to private property. Chavez said that contradicts a ruling by the California Supreme Courts, which the U.S. Supreme allowed to stand.

"The FCC saw the Chavez effort as nothing more than a cheap shot at grabbing headlines," said No-on-14 campaign director Bill Roberts.

Chavez, meanwhile, launched a three-day "human billboard" campaign for his initiative in Los Angeles with a crowd of about 1,500, including several actors and actresses.

Chavez supporters wearing sandwich board style signs fanned out to freeway offramp sites around Los Angeles after the rally.

Bill gives U.S. control of checking grain exports

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford signed a bill Friday establishing federal controls over the scandal-plagued system for inspecting grain export shipments. At the same time, he cast his 65th veto.

The grain inspection bill was prompted by two years of investigations into irregularities and misconduct in the grain inspection process. More than 70 persons were convicted on charges that included stealing and misgrading grain and bribing inspectors.

In a statement, Ford said the bill "will provide our nation with an effective and honest system of grain inspection and weighing."

The new law ends a 50-year-old system of inspection, grading and weighing of grain at most U.S. ports by governmental-licensed private inspectors who often have connections with the export firms that are shipping the grain.

In its place, federal inspectors independent of shipping companies will take over inspection, except at ports where state agencies are in charge. This means that about 75 per cent of the grain shipped from this country will pass under the eyes of federal inspectors.

Ford issued his 65th veto because of a technical error committed by Congress in passing the same bill — the Foreign Soverign Immunities Act — twice. The measure establishes rules governing instances when a foreign state and be sued in U.S. courts.

Another bill Ford signed sets uniform standards for the control of hazardous wastes. It requires permits for owners and operators of sites disposing such waste and provides federal assistance for solid waste management by state and local areas.

Other bills signed by the President include:

—A Veterans Omnibus Health Care Act that will expand the Veterans Administration medical care program and liberalize benefit eligibility.

—A National Park System Omnibus Bill affecting 41 national parks and recreation areas and authorizing $124.8 million for acquiring new land and developing parks.

—A national land policy measure for the development and management of public lands.

—Provisions for establishing constitutions for the Virgin Islands and Guam, now organized as unincorporated territories administered by the Interior Department. The measure authorizes the citizens of the islands to organize territorial governments under constitutions drafted by their elected representatives.

Three area students pass the audition; join singing group

Two Pomona High School seniors and a student at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut have won places with the Young Americans following highly competitive auditioning in Carson.

They are Yvette Anderson, 16, of 877 Ashfield Ave., Pomona; Myra Bullock 16, of 2175 Victoria Way, Pomona; and Dale Brahs, 18, of 627 North Jansen Ave., San Dimas.

Brahs is a 1976 San Dimas High School graduate.

All three of the young people aspire to careers in the entertainment field. Miss Anderson favors musical comedy, Miss Bullock hopes to become an actress and professional singer and Brahs is concentrating seriously on becoming an actor.

Being slected for Young Americans, Brahs said, "is a start, and you've got to start somewhere. I like acting best, and that's what I'm studying in college. I've always wanted to be an actor, but really studying to be one is something I've just recently decided to do."

Brahs played the lead role in three musicals performed by San Dimas High School dramatists. He sings tenor.

Having the opportunity to perform with Young Americans and receive professional training has strong appeal to the young singers.

Miss Anderson started studying piano at 5 and has been singing "a long time." She is a member of the Chamber Singers at Pomona High, and in 1975, won that school's Best Actress award.

"I love to sing," she said. "This is something I've wanted to do for a long time." She is a soprano.

Miss Bullock began singing in first grade and has sung in choirs and choruses all through her school years. She sings with both the Chamber Singers and Madrigals at Pomona High. She sings alto and soprano.

She plans to major in drama and English in college and minor in music, she said.

"I'm looking forward to this experience, performing with other young Americans and meeting new people."

Young Americans director Milton Anderson and two seasoned members of Young Americans selected only 35 singers from among the 300 auditioned Oct. 8-10 in Carson. Rehearsals began last Sunday. First performance for the new members is scheduled in November.

Performers remain in Young Americans until they are 20.

While on tour, the young performers are paid a small stipend. The organization provides their costumes, transportation, room and board.

There are some 100 Young Americans in various parts of the nation. However, they perform in groups of 30 and are seen throughout the year on television and on numerous other stages.

MSAC drops bus transport service

Mt. San Antonio College has officially gone out of the bus transportation business, after 25 years of such service to its students.

James Simpson, vice president in charge of business services, told the college board of trustees Thursday, that he has sold off 10 of the district's 18 buses for a total of $23,000.

He said the remaining buses will be used mostly for field trips.

The college official said transportation to and from the college was discontinued this fall both to save money and because the number of rides had dropped to a point where it was impractical to continue the service.

He said the curtailment of the bus operation will save the district about $50,000 a year.

Simpson said the buses used to travel to every part of the sprawling college district every morning and every afternoon, "and during the past two or three years there were times when only four or five students would use the buses."

While bus transportation was, a worthwhile project in earlier years, it became a duplication when the buses of the Southern California Rapid Transit District began servicing the area.

Simpson said RTD buses run practically every hour, making the college's transportation system obsolete.

He said the college received several complaints when RTD bus drivers were on strike, "but since they went back to work we have not received a single call. I guess, the community doesn't really miss the college buses."

Nine members are appointed to committee in Claremont

Appointment of the first nine members of a planning committee for in-service training for ethnic awareness in the Claremont Unified School District was made at the Claremont school board's meeting this week.

Appointed to the committee are Elana Belinkoff, Rudolph Crew, Dolores Cross, Diann Jackson, Yvonne McIntrye, Helen Jean Munter, Phoebe Oljeto, Gertrude Riggle, and Josie Rodriguez.

Assistant Supt. Margaret Hodder who made the appointments explained that the committee's membership can be expanded at a later time, but appointment of nine persons affords the opportunity to start committee work Monday at 7:30 p.m.

She said that other persons may be appointed to make the committee representative of the community.

She explained that the membership consists of five ethnic minority representatives — there blacks, a Latin, and a Jew — five district staff members and two representatives with community interests.

Mrs. Hodder recommended that the committee be formed with fewer members than had been suggested during earlier planning.

State law requires districts having students of ethnic backgrounds to furnish in-service training to prepare teachers and other professional school service personnel to understand and relate effectively to the history, culture and current problems of such students and their environments.

In other matters, the board approved the following:

— Overnight field trips for students in field studies and backpacking classes at El Roble Intermediate School to Joshua Tree National Monument Oct. 22-23 and May 20-21 next spring; and to Los Padres National Forest Jan. 14-15 and March 25-26 next year.

Student cost will be $3 for food, with all other costs provided in the El Roble School budget.

— Accepted three books valued at $6 from Robert Baldwin; 112 books valued at $672 from Mrs. Hazel Hinman, a retired district employe, for district faculty use; a gift of science supplies (marine specimens and lab animal feed) valued at $100 from Ensel C. Stutts; and 33 books valued at $272 from Ken Miller, a district employe, for student classroom use.

S.B. County administrative reorganization plan delayed

Heated objections raised by one supervisor were enough to delay action on a proposed San Bernardino County administrative reorganization plan for at least a week.

Supervisor James Mayfield of Apple Valley objected strongly this week to part of the plan proposed by Earl Goodwin, county administrative officer.

The plan would eliminate one of the county's seven agencies — Program Development — and place those functions under the administrative officer. It would also create a stronger administrative staff and a new office of budget and finance.

Goodwin's plan, the first presented for reorganization since he took office as administrative officer last May, would create three new assistant administrative officers for management services, budget and finance and personnel.

Mayfield charged, however, the proposal would increase administrative costs rather than cut them. "In terms of salaries, your (Goodwin's) proposal will cost more than the old plan," he said.

The supervisor was particularly bothered by the plan to pay the new budget administrator $34,000 a year. Budget planning in the past was handled by a "coordinator" who was paid $25,000.

"We don't need another position paying $34,000 a year," Mayfield stated. "We have too many people around making that much money that are not contributing much to achieving our management goals and objectives."

Mayfield got into an argument with other supervisors, however, who said the reorganization plan was necessary to improve administrative services.

Supervisor Robert Townsend of Chino said Mayfield was only talking about 3 per cent of total county employes, or just 239 workers in the county administrative office. "We're jeopardizing budget planning if we change this. We must give the CAO responsibility for reorganizing his office."

Supervisors' Chairman Dennis Hansberger, appearing to favor Goodwin's proposal, noted the budget function should be beefed up and kept separate from other administrative operations.

But Mayfield said Goodwin doesn't have to answer to taxpayers, and he does. "I'm going to watch this."

Goodwin claims that his plan would produce cost savings and would be formed at no additional cost by transfers of existing personnel within the current Program Development Agency. He calls the new team proposed a group of "trouble-shooters."

With Supervisor Nancy Smith absent, and an expected negative vote from Mayfield, the three members present had no choice but to postpone action on the plan until next Monday.

Library features Halloween next week

A Halloween theme will mark a variety of children's activities next week at the Pomona Public Library.

"Ghosts and Ghoulies" is the title of a movie to be shown Wednesday at 7 p.m., while paper bag costume craft will be offered Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

A Halloween celebration will be held for boys and girls 12 and under Friday afternoon, with children invited to dress in costume and hear scarey stories told by candlelight.

The children's annual Halloween favorite, the Haunted House, will not be held this year, however, announced Brad Simon, city librarian.

He said the event had been canceled due to lack of funds.

In previous years the Haunted House activity had been enjoyed by up to 1,000 youngsters.

Last year library staff members put on the event mostly through volunteer effort, but the program was deemed to be too costly to repeat this year, he said.

Other events at the library next week include a display of a fire engine outside the library Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. Firemen will visit with kids and explain use of the equipment.

A Laurel and Hardy movie entitled "Way Out West" will be shown Thursday at 7 p.m.

The weekly TV Club programs will be held Tuesday and Thursday from 4 to 6 p.m., and "Kid Power" will be presented at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Due to the city's observance of Veteran's Day on Monday, the library will be closed until Tuesday.

For information call 620-2017.

Pop concert at MSAC has been canceled

A pop concert at Mr. San Antonio College Stadium, featuring five well-known recording artists, has been canceled.

Joe Zagorski, dean of community services at the college, disclosed that the Delhaven Community Center of La Puente, which was going to sponsor the benfit concert, has "run into too many problems."

The concert, approved by the college's board of trustees, was scheduled to be held Sunday afternoon. It was to feature Helen Reddy, B.W. Stevenson, Johnnie Taylor, M.T.Q., and the Hues Corporation.

Zagorski said those recording stars already had agreed to appear at the concert, but the Delhaven center apparently found that making the necessary arrangements, putting out the publicity, arranging for the necessary security and insurance were beyond its scope.

H.H. woman burns foot

A Hacienda Heights woman received first and second degree burns on a foot as she attempted to put out a bedroom fire probably started by her three-year-old child.

A musical program will be presented by a group called "Bethlehem."

The speaker will be Raul Ries. The program sponsored by the Christian Club of the college is open to the public.

Valley Council of Churches will hold annual assembly

The ninth annual Assembly of the Pomona Valley Council of Churches will be held on Thursday at Our Lady of the Assumption Roman Catholic Church, Claremont.

The business session will begin at 4:30 p.m.

Seven churches representing a variety of denominations and local communities will be received into the council membership.

Discussion groups in five specific areas will attempt to help the council find direction for new and creative programming in the upcoming year. These groups will cover "areas": Impact on government, chaired by Dr. John Vieg; racial and bi-lingual concerns, led by Ella and Henry Mitchell; Dr. Dwight Smith will direct the group concerned with concerns for the Elderly; Dwight Smith will consider Hunger Concerns; and women's concerns, Audrey Lightbody.

The evening session speaker will be Dr. Paul Crow, president of the Council on Christian Unity of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), who has long been an advocate of ecumenism. He began his ministry as a campus minister to Disciples Students at the University of Alabama and moved through several local church pastorates into time spent as professor of

PAUL CROW

Church History at Lexington Theological Seminary. He is best known for having served from 1968 to 1974 as General Secretary of the consultation on Church Union. This consultation took the form of several main line denominations seriously considering the steps and procedures leading to organic church unity, which could end the divisiveness of many denominational groups.

The evening program will also feature special music by the Handbell Choir of the First United Methodist Church of Ontario, directed by Donald Marler.

The report of the executive director, Audrey Lightbody, will be given in dramatic form and will highlight the work of the council over the past year.

Presiding over the day's activities will be the Rev. Leland Wilson who has served the Council as executive officer for the past two years. His term will conclude with this meeting and he will be responsible for the installation of new officers and board members.

Members of the committee planning the meeting are the Rev. Morgan Sly, pastor of the First Christian Church of Pomona; Mrs. Joyce Burn, in charge of registration; Mrs. Ruth Graham, serving as hospitality chairman; Mrs. Linda Monterez, dinner chairman; and the Rev. Richard McPherson, attendance chairman.

Persons wishing to attend the annual Assembly should send reservations to Mrs. Marjorie Bond, Pomona Valley Council of Church, 1753 N. Park Ave., Pomona 91768 with a check for $3.50 made out to the Pomona Valley Council of Churches. The deadline for reservations is Monday.

Pro life forum set Wednesday

An educational pro life forum will be held at Father Mackey Memorial Hall, Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Montclair, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The forum is sponsored by members of the newly formed Congressional District Action Committees of the Ontario Catholic Deanery, and is affiliated with the National Committees For a Human Life Amendment, Inc.

Simon Lorne, a Los Angeles attorney and a member of the legal staff of the Southern California Right To Life League, will speak on "The Legal Aspects of Abortion, And The Human Life Amendment."

Robert Reilly, Claremont, regional director of the California Pro Life Council, will discuss the candidates' stand on a human life amendment. His organization gathers information before each election for a Voter's Information Digest.

The Congressional District Action committees are an outgrowth of Respect Life Sunday held annually in Catholic churches.

The San Diego diocese, which include Catholic churches in the West End, joined with other dioceses in the United States on Oct. 3 to offer parishoners the opportunity to sign Life Role Cards in pledging support for A Human Life Amendment.

This amendment would protect human life at all stages of development. The parishoners also were given a chance to work on such projects as visiting congresmen, letter writing, voter registration and education, telegram and phone communications to Washington when bills on various aspects of social justice are introduced, and prayer.

The group is non-partisan and does not endorse candidates. It does provide information for individuals to form their own decisions.

Walk for Hungry funds designated

Agricultural development project in Ghana, India, and the Cape Verde Islands have been designated as recipients for funds to be raised Sunday by valley residents participating in the 1976 Walk for the Hungry.

In Ghana, $5,000 will go to the Agricultural Extension Project for the construction of better silos, the introduction of new varieties of seed, new breeds of pigs and chickens, and new methods of plowing with donkeys and bullocks. An important part of the project is the training of villagers to do extension work.

In India, $10,000 will go to a water development project for the digging and deepening of irrigation and drinking water wells, the construction of percolation tanks, agricultural assistance, and nutrition education.

In the Cape Verde Islands, $10,000 will go to the Windmill Project for the purchase of 25 windmills which are to arrive in Cape Verde this fall. At present only 20 per cent of the Cape Verde population benefits from pure water, principally in the local cities.

Through the Windmill Project, drinking water can be provided and gradually irrigation of small gardens will be made possible.

Planners estimate that the availability of water will create 6,000 to 10,000 new jobs in agriculture.

Monies designated for these three projects will be distributed by CROP, the food arm of Church World Service, worldwide church agency.

Other funds will go for the direct distribution of food to hungry people around the world. Participants in the walk may also designate the monies they raise to be used by Catholic Relief Services, Lutheran World Relief, or other agencies of their choice.

The third annual Walk for the Hungry is sponsored by the Pomona Valley Council of Church. This year's walk will begin at 1 p.m. at the athletic field of Damien High School, 1124 Bonita Ave., La Verne, and will follow a 10-mile route through San Dimas and La Verne. More than 2,000 walkers are expected to raise more than $40,000 this year.

Persons interested in walking or in sponsoring a walker should contact a local church or the Pomona Valley Council of Churches office, 622-3806.

Joint Lutheran service planned

A joint reformation service sponsored by the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod churches of Victorville, Yucaipa, Riverside and Pomona will be held at 4 p.m., Oct. 31 in Riverside.

The festival service, to be held at St. Paul Lutheran Church, 5939 Magnolia Ave., Riverside, will feature the Rev. Jon Mahnke as speaker. He is pastor of Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church in Carlsbad.

The joint service marks the beginning of the Reformation which began on Oct. 31, 1517, when Martin Luther nailed his "95 Theses" to the church door in Wittenberg, Germany. Within a short time Luther's Theses were known far and wide, and what Luther had intended as a challenge to debate with the church leaders soon developed into the start of a great movement in church history known as the Lutheran Reformation.

Immanual Lutheran

The Rev. Ron Kraft from Immanuel Lutheran in Riverside will be the guest speaker at 10 a.m. worship services Sunday at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Chino.

Mr. Kraft will discuss "Gospel in Marriage."

Claremont seeks improved data processing services

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Although customers rate the data processing services provided by the Claremont Unified School District as "good to excellent," the program director is seeking to make the operation more effective.

Dennis Vlasich told the Claremont school board that an annual questionnaire sent to users "has been one of the most effective tools in helping direct the activities of the data center for better and better data processing service.

"It has helped us develop procedures that make our users more effective at their jobs and avoid burdening them with activities which may make things easier for us but more difficult for them," he said.

Vlasich said that the approach of a questionnaire sent out the past three years "has been good for the staff and for the user because we deal with each other as people."

Vlasich explained that the data center has improved its ratings over the years, and "we use it to set our goals."

He said that because the 1974-75 survey expressed a need by users for more in-service training, he had set up a program of extensive in-service training with meetings once a month.

To a questionnaire inquiry whether the Claremont district was receiving more attention than Bonita or Pomona school districts, Vlasich said that the other districts replied, "No, the data center is adequately distributing its service."

The three local school districts are the prime customers of the data center, but the ABC, Saddleback, Ontario-Montclair, and Newport-Mesa school districts also avail themselves of certain programs offered, such as grade report, student data base, attendance, enrollment, scheduling, testing, warehouse, maintenance, purchasing, personnel and budget.

Vlasich explained the student information system seems the most valuable. He said that to Claremont attendance accounting seems important, while to Bonita student scheduling was rated among the highest. Pomona rated computer-assisted scheduling as one of the more useful systems in their school operation.

Vlasich said that keeping of production schedules, though not rated as extremely poor by any one segment of the cutomers, "is an area that needs improvement. Until there is adequate computer equipment to meet the heavy production requirements of our peak load periods," Vlasich said, "the best we can hope for is adequate user notification of schedule delays and problems."

Vlasich said that the center is instituting a program to alert users to any delays.

As to what computer systems the users ranked most important varied among the districts.

Both Bonita and Claremont rated attendance the single most important system, but Pomona felt that having computer terminals in school offices for instant access to computer files was the most important.

Student data base and student scheduling were ranked next in order by all three districts.

Storm halts Garey, Damien gridders

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

A sudden downpour that caused power outages throughout much of La Verne forced postponement of Friday night's important San Antonio League confrontation between co-leaders Garey and Damien.

With lightning striking frequently in the vicinity of Damien's stadium, the field lights went out just after the start of the fourth quarter with visiting Garey leading, 12-10.

After a short delay, the game officials ushered both teams off the playing field. It was agreed among the officials and head coaches Dick Larson of Damien and Lawson Bush of Garey that, if the outcome of the game would have a bearing on the league championship or a playoff berth, it will be played from the point of postponement at the end of the league season.

That agreement will have to be accepted by officials of both schools, but here is how things stood when the contest was stopped: Garey had a first-and-10 situation at Damien's 48-yard line with 11:48 of the fourth quarter It is a relatively safe bet that the game will have to be completed. Damien and Garey are tied for the league lead with 3-0 records. Ganesha is third with a 3-1 mark.

Both coaches agreed that postponement was the only possible action under the circumstances. "I wouldn't let my players remain on the field in that situation," said Larson. Even if the lights had been reactivated, frequent lightning strikes near the stadium made further play unsafe.

Damien took a 10-6 lead into the locker room after a dry first half. Rain began to fall lightly just as the halftime Homecoming ceremony was ending, and within a few minutes the capacity crowd was being drenched.

The Spartans took the second-half kickoff but punted on fourth down and Garey began a series at its own 14. Spurred by the powerful running of Elijah Turner, who broke runs of 20 and 23 yards on the drive, the Vikings pulled to a touchdown with 6:09 left in the third quarter. Ralph Dixon scampered for the final 14 yards but, for the second time, Garey's attempt at a two-point conversion failed.

That made it 12-10 Garey, and from that point until the postponement neither team was able to move the ball on a field that was by that time under an inch or two of water in places.

Each team scored a touchdown on a pass play in the first half. Damien struck first with a 15-play, 74-yard scoring drive on its initial possession. Fullback Leo Burke caught a Dan Marconi screen pass at the line of scrimmage and ran 16 yards for a score with 3:52 left in the first half, and Brian Sullivan's kick gave the Spartans a 7-0 lead.

A 27-yard connection from Garey quarterback Al Clay to wide receiver David Forte gave the Vikings a TD with 7:04 left in the first half, but the attempt for a two-pointer was no good.

Damien began its next possession on its own 40 after the kickoff bounced out of bounds, and moved to the Garey 15 before its drive was stalled. But Sullivan's attempt at a 32-yard field goal hit the left post and bounced through for three points, giving the Spartans a 10-6 with 3:15 remaining in the half.

The first half statistics were very even, with Garey totaling 127 yards to Damien's 102 and the Spartans ahead in first downs, 8-7.

Burke was the leading rusher with 29 yards on nine carries and Garey's Doug Brissette was next with 24 yards on five tries.

Passing accounted for most of the first half yardage. Garey's Clay hit on six of 10 aerials for 89 yards and was intercepted once while Marconi completed four of 10 for 70 yards and no interceptions. Dixon caught four passes for 44 yards.

Amazingly enough considering for slippery conditions, neither team lost a fumble. Penalties, however, were quite common. Damien was assessed 85 yards in penalties on nine infractions and Garey lost 70 yards on 10 calls.

Garey 12, Damien 10

Damien High's John Rayburn (23) intercepts a Garey pass in Friday's game before the rains came to stop the game early in the fourth quarter. Garey players are Elijah Turner (40) and David Forte (22). Vikings enjoyed 12-10 lead when game was stopped.

Braves keep hopes alive

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Sports Writer

Alta Loma High kept its Hacienda League title hopes alive Friday night with a hard-earned 13-6 victory over Bonita at Chaffey College.

The win ups the Braves' Hacienda mark to 3-1. They and Walnut are tied for second in the loop behind San Dimas at the mid-way point in the league schedule.

The loss virtually knocked Bonita out of the race for the Hacienda top spot. The Bearcats are now 2-2 in league games.

Mike Munoz and Jerry Barba were the heroes for Alta Loma Friday. Munoz, who didn't even play the first half, still finished as the top ground gainer in the game with an even 100 yards on 10 totes. His five-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter broke open a tight 7-7 game and gave the hosts the triumph.

Barba, the Braves "Monster Man", was all over the field as he led a defensive unit which limited the 'Cats to only seven first downs and 126 yards in total offense on the contest.

In truth, the contest was scarcely the best effort of the year for either squad. Both teams turned the ball over three times and both mounted only one successful scoring drive all night.

However, the big difference between the two squads turned out to be the Brave running game. Led by Munoz's big second half, Brave rushers churned out 211 yards on 52 carries. In contrast, Bonita could only manage 58 yards on the ground in 35 tries.

Alta Loma's winning score was set up when defensive back Jeff Holladay recovered a Ralph Ortega fumble on the Bonita 18 late in the third period.

From there, it was the Braves' Munoz all the way. He carried 13 yards to the Bearcat five on the first play of the fourth quarter, and then fought his way into the end zone on the next play.

Jim Gillespie's PAT kick was wide, but the Brave defense managed to hold off a coupie late rallies by the 'Cats to ice the win.

Bonita, midway through the final quarter, had a golden opportunity to tie or win the game, as the 'Cats had a first-and-goal at the A.L. one. However, that rugged Brave defense and a very costly delay of game call combined to turn the visitors aside.

The scoring chance was set up by a great catch by Rich Doyle of a Sanford Coggins' pass at the one, the play covering 43 yards. Actually, it looked for a moment that Doyle might have gotten into the end zone, but the officials spotted the pigskin on the Braves' one.

At that point Bonita was cited for the dalay call, moving the ball back to the six. Two runs by Coggins got it back to the two, but Bob Vidaure was tossed for a one-yard loss by the A.L. defense and Coggins was sacked on the six on fourth down, thus ending Bonita's last hurrah for the evening.

Alta Loma opened scoring in the second period with a short 34-yard drive. That march was set up when Darren Pili recovered a Bearcat fumble.

Bonita tied it up with a 57-yard march for a TD later in the quarter, Ortega bolting the final 26 himself on a draw play. Keith Brandt's kick tied it at 7-7 and it stayed that way until Munoz scored in the final period.

On the game, niether team looked sharp in passing. Bonita's Coggins hit on only two-of-15 for 68 yards, while the Braves' Dave Silva had only one completion in seven attempts for 11 yards. However, the Braves had that big edge in the rushing stats, 211 to 58, and the advantage in first downs, 13 to seven.

Rain stops net tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Rain Friday caused postponement of the semifinals singles matches in the $200,000 Inaugural women's tennis tournament until Saturday morning.

The finals will follow on Saturday afternoon. The rain began falling at Palm Springs in the afternoon, but there was a letup until shortly before the matches were scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. PDT.

After a delay of an hour and 45 minutes, tournament director Mrs. Edith McGoldrick announced the postponement of the matches at the Mission Hills Country Club.

The semifinal match between Wimbledon and U.S. Open champion Chris Evert, from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Virginia Wade of London, was rescheduled for center court starting at 8:30 a.m. PDT.

Francoise Durr of France, who currently makes her home in Phoenix, Ariz., will meet Terry Holladay, La Jolla, Calif., at the same time on a side court.

Originally, the finals were to be played at 10:30 a.m. and taped by the National Broadcasting Co. for showing at 1 p.m. With the postponement, the finals will be shown live by the network.

Dorsett near rushing mark

"Wow, I'm getting close," is the way the University of Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett put it after rushing for 227 yards against Miami of Florida a week ago.

What Dorsett is getting close to is the year-old all-time major college rushing record of Ohio State's Archie Griffin. He could break it today when the second-ranked Panthers clash with Navy at Annapolis, Md.

Dorsett, major college football's second 5,000-yard man, has 5,026 yards and needs just 152 to pass Griffin's total of 5,177. In fact, with five regular-season games remaining, he needs only 272 yards to break the over-all NCAA mark of 5,297 yards set by Howard Stevens in two years at Randolph-Macon (College Division) and two at Louisville (University Division).

Ganesha triumphs

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

Ganesha High's Giant backfield scored four touchdowns en route to a 27-13 triumph over cross-town rival Pomona on a wet San Antonio College field Friday night.

The win moves Ganesha into sole possession of third place in the San Antonio League, boasting a 3-1 loop record and 3-3 overall mark.

Ahead of the Giants are SAL co-leaders, Damien and Garey, both owning undefeated 3-0 records. The two teams squared off Friday night, but the game was postponed, due to a power failure at Damien High.

Three Giants combined to thwart Pomona by accounting for 21 of the 23 total points.

Halfback Floyd Eddings and Bennie Gooden scored all four Giant touchdowns, and quarterback Joe Madrigal passed for one of the TDs and kick two extra points.

The three backfield mates were the only Giants to carry the ball on the ground in rushing for 237 yards.

Gooden and Eddings each rushed for more yards than did the entire Devil attack which totaled 99 yards.

Gooden led all rushers with 106 yards on 14 carries, followed closely by Eddings with 101 yards on 13 totes. Madrigal, on five rushes, mostly QB sneaks, gained 30 yards.

In the air, Madrigal connected on five of nine passes, good for 73 yards.

Ganesha was the first to get on the scoreboard, with 1:41 left in the first quarter, Eddings ran off tackle for a 32-yard scoring run with Madrigal adding the extra point.

Pomona came back to tie the score with eight minutes left in the first half as quarterback Kevin Johnson scored on a one-yard sneak. Brian Donahue booted the tying PAT.

That was the closest the Devils got, as Ganesha scored the next 14 points.

With 1:15 left until intermission Eddings and Madrigal booked up for a 28-yard scoring play with the kick failing.

In the second half, it was Gooden's turn to put points on the board. At 8:04 of the third stanza, the speedy Gooden romped 25 yards to paydirt On a fake kick, holder Jeff Seamon passed to Craig Parm for the two-point conversion.

Pomona put its final tallies on the board with 17 seconds left in the period. Devil fullback, Rick Fairman bulled his way in from two yards out with the run for two points failing.

Gooden and the Giants put the finishing touches on with 7:44 left to play, moments before the rain started to fall.

A slight drizzle then dampened the field and Devil hopes, turning into a downpour at times.

The remainder of the period saw both teams collect yellow-flag disease, with 60 yards in penalties marched off in the following two minutes span.

The two-minute stint also saw three successive plays brought back due to penalities. The two teams combined to make the referees march off 111 yards in the final, rain-soaked quarter.

Inthe warning minutes, Pomona marched to the Giant seven, only to relinquish possession on downs.

The Giants will host Montclair at MSAC next week, while winless Pomona (0-4, 0-6) will try to right things hosting Chino on the same gridiron.

San Dimas posts shutout

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

San Dimas rolled up a 19-0 lead on Royal Oak Friday night before the heavens opened up and drenched the Bonita High field turning it into a quagmire. San Dimas went on to take the contest, 25-0.

The rain brought the contest to almost a halt as both teams struggled through the mud. The second half was a mishmash of penalties and fumbles after the scoreboard and clock went out of commission. A substitute clock was put into use while the fans packed their bags and headed home.

However, the downpour didn't come soon enough for Royal Oak. The Romans quickly found themselves trailing 13-0 as Royal Oak's defense was helpless against the San Dimas running game.

The Saints, behind its power running backfield, rolled up 137 yards on 19 carries in first half action. Bob Pleasant racked up 66 yards on five carries. Teammate Perry Aris broke loose for a 33-yard TD run as he banged out 105 yards.

Royal Oak's offense was smothered time and again by the Saint defense. San Dimas dropped Royal Oak runners five times for a total of 14 yards.

Saint quarterback Don Hargett salted away the contest as the rain started falling with a one yard plunge. The TD came with 38 seconds left in the half.

San Dimas added a final tally as the Saints slowly edged their way through the muck towards the Roman end zone. Don Miller scored from five yards out after Royal Oak had been guilty of back-to-back 15-yard penalties.

The game featured 11 fumbles as four came in a dry first half. With the slippery ball, both squads coughed up the ball a total of seven times. No one received damaging injuries on the slippery turf.

Royal Oak's only chance of putting some points on the board came late in the game after San Dimas had tried on a side kick. The ball refused to roll the required 10 yards as the wet and muddy field stopped it as if it were a magnet.

The Romans ran three plays and tried a 48-yard field goal on fourth down. The slippery ball never got to the kicker's toe as the ball squirmed away from the place holder.

Royal Oak, despite using a wet ball tried the airwaves several times during second half action. Quarterbacks' Jeff Strycula and Fred Elias hit on five of 13 attempts. All five completions occurred in the first half as the Romans racked up 54 aerial yards.

San Dimas, atop the Hacienda League at 4-0, returns to action Friday night as the Saints travel to Sierra Vista. Royal Oak takes on Walnut Friday at Charter Oak High.

Jabbar paces L.A.

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 33 points, 12 during the decisive third quarter, and led the Los Angeles Lakers to 103-84 victory over the Washington Bullets in a National Basketball Association opener Friday night.

Jabbar, who had 19 rebounds and four blocked shots, ignited the Lakers at the start of the second half as Washington continued its extended streak of cold shooting.

The Bullets led 30-24 after the first quarter, but then scored only 29 in the next two quarters while hitting but 26 per cent of their shots.

The Lakers, who lost their opener to the New York Knickerbockers Thursday night, extended their lead to 73-59 after three periods. Los Angeles outscored Washington 26-17 in the third quarter, with Cazzie Russell contributing eight points and Don Ford adding six.

Russsell finished with 22 points while Len Robinson led Washington with 26.

The Bullets finished with a 33 per cent shooting average and Robinson was the only starter able to show a decent mark, hitting eight of 17 shots.

Washington guard Phil Chenier sank his first attempt, scoring the first basket of the game, and then missed his next 14 tries.

While the Bullets went cold before a sellout crowd of 19,035, their best opening day attendance in history, the Lakers took off in the opposite direction.

Los Angeles hit 50 per cent of its attempts in the second quarter and 57 per cent in the third period. Russell, who tried just three shots in the first half, went 8-for-13 after intermission. Jabbar finished with 15-of-25.

The victory was the first for Jerry West, in his first season as a coach, while Dick Motta suffered the loss

Arizona Pac-8 switch appears more likely

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — The president of the Arizona Board of Regents said Friday there is enough votes to approve Arizona State and Arizona's move to the Pacific 8 Athletic Conference.

A spokesman for the Fiesta Bowl said at the same time the post season football game would continue without the two teams, or, if necessary, without the Western Athletic Conference. The WAC champion serves as the host team in the contest.

Sidney Woods, president of the regents, was quoted by the Arizona Daily Wildcat, the university student newspaper, as saying "the votes needed for either or both schools to switch conference will be present at our November meeting."

James Dunseath and Dwight Patterson, two of the 10 members of the board, said they are leaning toward approval of the move. The regents will meet in Tucson Nov. 26-27.

The regents have four options. They can vote to approve both schools moving to the Pac-8, both staying in the WAC, Arizona moving to the Pac-8 alone, or Arizona going to the Pac-8 and ASU becoming an independent.

Arizona officials say they favor moving to the west coast conference while ASU officials have been reluctant to commit the school to the move. ASU officials recently asked for the option to turn independent should Arizona join the Pac-8.

Woods, a former football player at Arizona, said he favors both schools moving to the Pac-8 together.

Although Pac-8 officials have not formally invited the Arizona schools, they say they are awaiting for an expression of interest from the schools.

The schools would give a one-year notice to the WAC and join the Pac-8 for the 1978-79 school year, if the move is approved.

Bruce Skinner, assistant executive director of the Fiesta Bowl, said if both Arizona and ASU move to the Pac-8, the two schools would still be eligible to compete in the Fiesta Bowl.

"As I understand our contract with the WAC, if the membership changes we have the right to cancel the contract," Skinner said. "At this juncture I don't know what the board will do. We could stay with the WAC and match its champion with another school or we could go out and get two schools to play in the game."

Skinner said nothing in the Pac-8 rules would prevent ASU or Arizona from accepting an invitation to play in the Fiesta Bowl except winning the Pac-8 title and playing against the Big Ten champion in the Rose Bowl.

Cincy fans also more subdued

CINCINNATI (AP) — The scene was the same as last year. The crowd was about the same size and they were cheering for the same heroes.

But what a difference a year made Friday when Cincinnati welcomed home their world champions for the second straight time.

Some players noted that some of the excitement had gone, or at least it had re-emerged in a new form after a four-game sweep over the New York Yankees.

"This year's crowd is different ... like us," said Manager Sparky Anderson. "They're more professional than ever before.

"I'm more thrilled this year than I was last year, but we've learned to express ourselves and it stays inside."

For the most part, the 35,000 fans were more subdued than last year when the Reds' celebrated that dramatic seventh-game victory over the Boston Red Sox to win their first World Series since 1940.

"That first time is always the most exciting and I'll always remember it," said second baseman Joe Morgan. "But the second time is just as important, just as a third will be.

"But I'll always remember the excitement of those seven games."

The crowd, which filled Fountain Square—the traditional gathering spot for such celebrations—cheered each of the players as they made their appearance and said a few words.

Prior to the assembly, fans lined up several deep while people threw confetti from the taller buildings as the Reds players and management were paraded around the city in individual cars.

Tony Perez, who has been the object of trade rumors for several years, waved a white cowboy hat to the crowd as he arrived on the square, smiled broadly and held his cigar over his head as he received one of the loudest ovations of the half-hour ceremony.

Johnny Bench, the Series' most valuable player, chanted: "We're No. 1. We're No. 1," as he did during last year's celebration But the response was not as loud nor as long.

Pete Rose, who gets excited just playing a normal game of baseball, admitted, "I couldn't get turned on about the World Series this year.

"I didn't expect it to be as exciting as last year, but that's because of the way we won it."

If the players talked about the difference a year made, they also talked about being back in the Square next year, showing that big championship trophy to the crowd.

"With the team we have there's no reason why we shouldn't do it again," said Rose. "There's the mountain. All we have to do is climb it."

Rose was only disappointed he couldn't start climbing that mountain tomorrow.

Montclair uses bolts to down Claremont

By BRENT SHYER
PB Correspondent

With thunder and lightning bolts shattering the Friday night sky in the background, the Montclair High Cavaliers added a little fourth quarter lightning of their own, as they went on to defeat the Claremont High Wolfpack, 13-0.

The win for Montclair (2-2) made its Homecoming proceedings all the more enjoyable. Besides that, according to Cavs' head coach Rich Bare, "it was the second win for us over Claremont in 15 years, and the first victory since 1966 over them"

Claremont (2-2) and Montclair were both unable to get on the scoreboard through the first three quarters. Three missed field goal chances — two by the Cavs — was about all the offense the two teams could display in the first half.

Early in the fourth period, Claremont quarterback Chris Pruitt placed a pass up for grabs and Montclair's Harlon Hanson picked it off on the Cavs' 28-yard line.

On the initial play of the Montclair drive, quarterback Darrin Pierce tossed a 34-yard aerial to his 5-foot-6 end Tony Valverde. After a six-yard gain and six-yard loss, Pierce dropped back to pass on a third down play and had no troubling finding Valverde again for a 38-yard touchdown. An obvious mix-up in the Wolfpack defense left Valverde unmolested on the scoring play.

The extra point by Kent Gurney was good, giving the Cavs a 7-0 lead.

Montclair was able to pad its margin later in the quarter on another 'Pack miscue.

Pruitt passed the pigskin, intended for Jack Dunaway, but the ball was tipped up in the air and grabbed by the alert hands of Mike Kizziar.

Montclair then drove 33 yards on six plays for another TD, with a one-yard plunge by Gurney the capper. A key 22-yard run by fullback Tom Weaver kept the drive alive.

Weaver had a most successful game with 70 yards on 19 carries. Gurney added 41 yards on 20 totes. Pierce made good on five of 11 passes for 113 yards. Montclair totally dominated the final offense statistics with 219 total yards to Claremont's 134.

Coach Bare noted that he was pleased with the play of Rod Johnson, who played both on offense and defense, and Ken Hartline, who recovered a fumble for Montclair.

"Our offense played real well," said Bare. "Because of the amount of time our offensive unit was able to be on the field our defense was rested and we were able to shut out Claremont. We had an excellent pass rush on Pruitt all night."

Chino rallies for 1st win

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

If this particular San Antonio League contest had been played with first place in the standings at stake, it would have been billed as "The Game of the Year." Unfortunately, only an escape from the cellar awaited the victor, so despite being a thriller, this game will be long forgotten by the end of the year.

Jim Rawls' Chino Cowboys made a very impressive come-from-behind win Friday night at Chino, 20-12 over Upland, for the hosts' first victory of the year.

The taste of wine was very sweet indeed for the Chino Homecoming crowd, with not a single fan seated throughout the final five minutes of the game. The Chino club, in fact, refused to leave the playing field at the game's conclusion, preferring to create a huge pile of humanity at the 50-yard-line, seemingly "sticking" one another harder than they had stuck the Highlanders moments earlier.

Trailing 12-0 at the half, coach Rawls offered some inspiring verbal comments on his team's play.

"I literally threw a temper-tantrum", grinned the Chino skipper. "I just exploded . . . I really couldn't believe that they could play with no spirit. I blew up and I walked out on them."

"But look at 'em now", Rawls continued. "They decided that they wanted to hit and play some ball! I really think that we can win the rest of 'em, I really do."

The Cowboys wasted no time in letting their Man know that they wanted to win following intermission, taking the opening kickoff and marching 72 yards to a score in only five plays, cutting the gap to 12-6. The Chino defense came out roarin' too, forcing an Upland fumble on the ensuing series, turning the ball over to the offensive unit on the Highlander 30.

Two plays later wide receiver Bob Andozola hauled in a perfect 19-yard scoring strike from quarterback Dan Reyes, tying the game at 12-12 at the 4:26 mark of the period. Tony Gonzales split the uprights with the eventual game-winning PAT, and it was all downhill for Upland from that point on.

The big spark for the Cowboys was running back Mike Bertschinger, who was playing in his first varsity game after being called up from the JV squad during the week. Bertschinger was Chino's leading rusher with 39 yards in nine carries, and scored twice.

Gable paces Chaffey's win

By DAN JOHNS
PB Correspondent

Chaffey High quarterback John Gable ran for 53 yards and passed for 139 yards in helping his squad rip Redlands, 28-7, Friday night.

The Tigers scored their first TD on their second possession in the first quarter. Starting on his own 42, Gable engineered a 10-play drive to the Terriers' one then promptly bulled his way through the Redlands defense for the initial score.

The Terriers were never really in the game, with most of what offense it could generate coming from junior running back Greg Martinez, who toted the ball 25 times for 103 yards enroute to becoming the game's leading rusher.

Chaffey's other scores came on Gable passes in the third quarter.

The first came on Randy Johnson's seven-yard reception with Steve Lehor and Scott Bennett on the receiving end for 11 and 21 yards respectively to wrap up the Tigers' scoring.

Redlands lone score, and its first this year in five outings, came with 4:32 left in the game, when working from the Chaffey five, Gene Larson was sent in to call signals for starting QB Scott Chick, he took the snap and found room on the right side of the field to give Redlands its first six and give its fans something to cheer about.

Despite what the score says of the games' one-sidedness Redlands' 211 yards total offense was only 18 yards shy of Chaffey's total of 218. It was very apparent that the Tigers knew how to cash in on their yardage much better than Redlands. Gable's 50 per cent average, (7 for 14), by far is his best outing of the year.

The Tigers are 2-0 in the Citrus Belt League and 3-3 overall.

Mounties place 3rd in meet

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

Mt. San Antonio College's cross country team placed third in the 28th annual edition of the MSAC Cross Country Invitational Friday on the Mountie course.

But Grossmont, the top team in the state, took top honors grabbing its third consecutive team championship at the MSAC Invitational. Citrus College placed 14th while newly crowned Mission Conference dual meet champ Chaffey College placed eighth.

MSAC's Joe Ebiner set a school record on the Mounties' grueling four-mile course. Ebiner led the Mounties to a second place finish behind Northern California power American River in the large division. Ebiner finished second at 20:02 behind L.A. Valley's Lou Silva at 19:53.

Ebiner just missed breaking his all-time best of 19:58 which he set in breaking the Grossmont course record last week. But Ebiner did break Mark Lotich's school record of 20:20.

The Mounties next man was Billy Jones in the seventh position with a time of 20:30 followed by Neal Ward (20:34) in 10th place. After Ward there was a huge time gap before another Mountie crossed the finish line. This hurt the Mounties quest of the Invitational championship.

"We showed today that cross country is a team sport," noted MSAC's John Norton. "If we had done better from the fourth man on down we would have finished higher in the team standings.

"Our top three guys did very well (Ebiner, Jones and Ward) but then our next four men didn't run as strong as they're capable of running."

In the Novice race, MSAC placed fourth as Kevin Kellogg finished sixth at 20:58 breaking a Grossmont monopoly on the finish line. Grossmont swept the first five places. Grossmont had also placed five men in the top 11 in the medium division race to notch the Invitational team title.

Norton commented, "If we have a good day overall, then we're capable of beating anyone. Our top seven men are equal and anyone can turn in a great performance on a given day."

Chaffey College broke into the top 10 by having five men finish no lower than 35th place. Mike Roza paced the Panther's by finishing 10th at 20:49. Chaffey just barely beat out De Anza for the third position in the medium school race.

Citrus College in the small division placed first with a team time of 108.23 to San Diego Cities overall team time of 108.39. Tom McCann led the Owls to the first place finish and a 14th finish overall by finishing second to Oxnard's Ed Ramirez. McCann's time was 20:30.

Citrus placed fifth in the Novice race behind Fullerton and MSAC.

Cal depends on reserves

BERKELEY (AP) — With quarterback Joe Roth and speedy receiver Wesley Walker sidelined with injuries, California will have to depend on substitutes — and memories — in their Pacific-8 conference clash with nationally ranked UCLA.

Roth, who has combined with Walker for 597 yards and six touchdowns this season, will be replaced by senior Fred Besana. Cal's number-two receiver is tight end George Freitas, who has 22 catches for 201 yards.

The memories are of last season, when UCLA, which shared the conference championship with Cal, went to the Rose Bowl because of a mid-season 28-14 win over the Bears. It isn't likely that Cal, now 3-3 and 1-1 in conference play, will repeat last year's 6-1 conference mark.

"It's Fred's game," said Bears coach Mike White. "And I'm sure he will do a fine job. We're going to have to control the ball against UCLA and he's a good high-percentage passer."

UCLA, 5-0-1 and 2-0 in the Pac-8, has no similar problems. Scrambling quarterback Jeff Dankworth, who is averaging six yards per run and is 28-for-50 in passing, has proved a worthy successor to All-American John Sciarra.

And UCLA has one of the nation's strongest ground games with halfbacks Wendell Tyler and Theotis Brown. Tyler is the Pac-8's number-two rusher with 597 yards and four touchdowns, while Brown, a sophomore who played his high school ball in nearby Oakland, is ranked fourth with 516 yards and seven TDs.

Cal's hopes may be pushed onto their defense, which has allowed 116 points in six games to 59 for UCLA. Tackle Jeff Barnes admits it will be a big job to halt the nation's fifth-ranked offense.

"You can't really stop an offense like UCLA's; you just try to cut it down once in a while," Barnes said. "We know that they're just going to keep coming."

The defensive unit has shown some strength against UCLA-type wishbone attacks, allowing only four touchdowns in the past three games.

Cal Poly harriers visit UC Riverside

The Cal Poly cross country team travels to UC Riverside for a dual meet with the Highlanders this Saturday at 11 a.m.

Broncos host USIU tonight

By BILL LANGLEY
Sports Editor

Cal Poly's football team is in a strange situation tonight when the Broncos host United States International University (USIU) in a 7:30 p.m. kickoff at Kellogg Field.

For one thing, the Broncos are home after traveling 5,000 miles the past three weeks for games in Mississippi, Texas and Arizona.

Poly will be staying near its campus the rest of the season. Three of the final four games are at Kellogg Field and the fourth is only an hour away at Northridge.

The Broncs are also in the unusual position of playing a team competing on a lower level.

Throughout the early part of the season, Poly has been busy meeting bigger opponents with three of the first six foes competing on the Division 1 level.

But ISIU competes on the NAIA level which means Poly, a NCAA Division 2 member, enjoys the advantage as far as budgeting and scholarships are concerned.

However, this won't be the first time this season Poly enters a game as a heavy favorite. The Broncs were also an easy pick in their last home game against an average San Francisco State team and ended up a 22-19 loser because of fourth quarter turnovers.

The loss to San Francisco was the low point of the campaign. Since then, the Broncs were whipped by a nationally-ranked Mississippi State team followed by a tight contest against North Texas State and last week's 9-7 upset win over previously undefeated Northern Arizona.

Poly (1-4-1) needs a win tonight to keep any momentum for a big finish during the final three games against good Division 2 opponents.

Coach Andy Vinci is also hoping to get Poly's offense untracked tonight. The Broncs have had problems getting points on the board this season with only 55 points in six games. The 19 against San Francisco is the high for the year.

USIU is also 1-4-1 for the season under new coach John O'Brien. The Westerners' lone win was over Claremont-Mudd, 23-21. Losses have been in Northern Arizona (20-0), Cal State Los Angeles (41-12), Redlands (31-14) and Whittier (26-6). The tie was a 30-30 contest with crosstown rival University of San Diego.

An upset win over Poly would make USIU's season.

Vinci, who met USIU several times when he coached at USD, says the Westerners have the qualities of giving the Broncs a battle.

"They have a quarterback who can throw the ball and have an excellent running back," Vinci said.

Poly will be starting its basic lineup except for two noticeable delections on defense. Tackle John Medlin, who has been ill, and linebacker Rich Kluck, who has been handicapped by a knee injury, will see limited action.

Quarterback Leo Costa, who has been improving each week, will head a backfield consisting of tailback Mark Sanders, fullback Brent Partridge, flanker Lonnie Carr and split end Teddy Myles. The starting offensive line has left tackle Bobby Costeldia, left guard Jeff Buhr, center Larz Malony, right guard Buck Fowler, right tackle Dan Mitchell and tight end Jay Johnson.

MSAC to try travel

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Mt. San Antonio College's football team will try a new experience tonight, as the Mounties will travel to Cerritos for their first road game of the season.

MSAC, 5-0-1 on the year and top-ranked in the state, stands atop the South Coast Conference standings with a 2-0 mark, while Cerritos is 0-2 in league play. However, since this is the Mounties' first road contest of the year, it's something of a mystery how well they will do on enemy turf.

Two key games are also on tap in the Mission Conference tonight. Citrus (4-1) will try to hold on to its league lead vs. a talented San Bernardino Valley squad. That clash will be played at SBVC. Chaffey (3-2) will try to keep its hopes for a conference title alive while hosting San Diego CC. Both those Mission tilts will begin at 7:30 p.m., as will the MSAC-Cerritos matchup.

MSAC, despite its perfect mark and number-one rating, figures to have its hands full with the deceptive Falcons. Cerritos is only 2-3 on the year, but the Falcons always seem to play their best ball vs. the Mounties and hold a 6-1 advantage in the grid series between the two schools.

The Falcons have found a very effective rushing duo in fullback Joe Fletcher (274 yards) and halfback Marty Campbell (256 yards). However, their quarterback situation is still muddled, as Kevin Hamilton and Mark Chandler have shared duties all year at that spot. Hamilton is rated the better passer of the two while Chandler is the superior runner.

Biggest debit for the Falcons on defense has been an inability to stop the run. They rate dead last in the SCC in team defense vs. the rush, having allowed opponents an average of 286.8 yards on the ground per game. Teams have averaged 5.6 yards every carry vs. Cerritos, as the Falcon defense has not been able to stop opponents' sweeps.

MSAC, with the top rushing team in the conference, should have little trouble moving the ball on the ground. Halfback Mike Hill (498 yards), fullback Dana Hutchinson (230 yards) and quarterback Brian Bethke (323 yards) give the Mounties a very balanced running game.

Bethke was shaken up last week vs. Grossmont but is expected to be at full strength for tonight's clash. Should he experience any further health problems, MSAC's "super sub" Steve Taylor will be ready to take over the controls.

The MSAC defensive 11 is healthy and should provide the Falcons with a good test. Nap Sparks, Jerome Covington, Jim LaBouf and Dave Pearce figure to get the starting nod at the defensive back slots tonight. Brian Anderson, Scott Pickwith, Mike Zamora and Jay Giangrogorio will be the MSAC linebackers while Phil Mertz, Gerard Bellettierre and Ben Lopez will anchor the line.

Other starters for the Mounties on offense include wide receivers Tom Peterssen and Chauncey Abney, tight end Don Warren, center Chris Johnston and linemen Kevin Pertula, Mark Bridgewater, Bill Tussy and Mike Nissly.

Leos, Poets in SCIAC opener

All three local SCIAC teams are in action within five miles of each other as conference play opens this afternoon.

Defending co-champion La Verne (2-2) takes on Whittier (4-1) at the Leopards' Field. At the same time, cross-campus rivals Pomona-Pitzer (2-2) and Claremont-Mudd (0-3) clash at Stags' Stadium.

Both games are at 1:30 p.m. The other game, Occidental at Redlands, is a night game (7:30 p.m.) at Redlands. Redlands also has posted a 4-1 mark in pre-conference competition while Oxy is 2-1.

Whittier has a strong revenge motive in its game at La Verne. The Leopards dealt the Poets their only loss, 7-6, in a non-conference contest at Whittier in the Leos' season opener.

Word from Whittier is that to a man, the Whittier players figure they should have won that game. It was the game in which La Verne center Glen Mayer picked up the ball and ran for 22 yards to set up the Leopards' touchdown with the Poets leading, 6-0 late in the game.

"La Verne was really taking it to us offensively and defensively in the second half," said Poets coach John Godfrey. "If we're going to beat La Verne, we must whip them on the football field and not in the newspaper columns." Godfrey was referring to Whittier newspaper stories.

The Poets have the momentum of a three-game winning streak while the Leos have lost two in a row.

Whittier has beaten Azusa Pacific, 16-6, USD, 10-0, and USIU, 26-6 since the 7-6 loss to La Verne. The Poets won their opener, 14-7 over St. Mary's.

La Verne followed its slim margin of victory over Whittier by crushing Pomona-Pitzer, 56-7. But the next week, APC upset the Leopards, 20-10 and last week Cal Lutheran scored a 24-14 win over the Leos at Thousand Oaks.

"We're going to be ready for Whittier," said La Verne coach Roland Ortmayer. "I think we played a pretty good game at Thousand Oaks."

La Verne led 7-0 after the first quarter, but Cal Lutheran erupted for nine points in the second and did not increase the 9-7 lead in the scoreless third quarter.

"Penalties hurt us whenever we got something going," said Ortmayer. La Verne was penalized six times for 70 yards in the first half and five times for 45 yards in the second half. The Kingsmen had four penalties for 55 yards in the game.

Brad Frick kept up his strong showing. The husky sophomore carried the ball 18 times and netted 148 yards and one touchdown. He set up the second Leo TD with an 83-yard run.

Ortmayer saw Whittier romp over USIU last week. Asked how much he thought the Poets had improved since the first game with La Verne, Ortmayer replied, "I don't know, I was watching us the first game. This time I was watching them."

Ortmayer is hopeful that defensive end Honnie VanderKallen can get back in action this week. VanderKallen did not play against Cal Lutheran.

Whittier is the top defensive team in the SCIAC. The Poets have allowed opponents an average of only 237.8 yards a game. La Verne is second giving up an average of 262 yards per contest.

The Leos have an offensive edge. They rank third among conference teams with an average of 368.4 yards while Whittier is dead last netting an averaging of just 239.5 yards a game.

Over at Claremont-Mudd, the Stags are coming off a bye. "We've looked at a lot of people in the three games," said coach John Zinda of the Stags, "but now I think we're ready to play some good football."

Pomona-Pitzer is coming off a 56-0 win over Caltech. Freshman Brent Dunford gained 161 yards on 15 carries.

"The biggest improvement we've made in four games," said coach Walt Ambord, "is in our execution. But we'll be definite underdogs against the Stags. They beat us 35-6 last year."

Trojans welcome Beavers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California's Trojans, led by rampaging Ricky Bell, welcome home an old friend today when Oregon State visits the Coliseum, but "welcome" may not be the right word.

Craig Fertig, Oregon State's rookie football coach, played quarterback for John McKay at Southern California in the 1960s, and remained there afterward for 10 years as an assistant to McKay.

His homecoming party may, however, be an unpleasant one. The seventh-ranked Trojans, coming into the Pacific-8 clash as the nation's second-leading team in both total offense and scoring, are favored to beat the Beavers by four touchdowns in the game which is also their homecoming.

Southern California, off last weekend, is 4-1 on the season and 2-0 in Pac-8 play, while Oregon State is 1-5 and 1-1.

P-P hosts Whittier

Pomona-Pitzer's soccer team (7-0 in the SCIAC) takes on twice-beaten Whittier (5-2) at 11 a.m. at Merritt Field.

Originally billed as the game that would probably decide the conference title, the match lost some of its luster when La Verne stunned the Poets, 1-0, Wednesday. At the same time the Sagehens were thumping Redlands, 12-0, the same score they beat the Bulldogs by the first game.

After today, the 'Hens play Caltech, Occidental and C-M all at Merritt

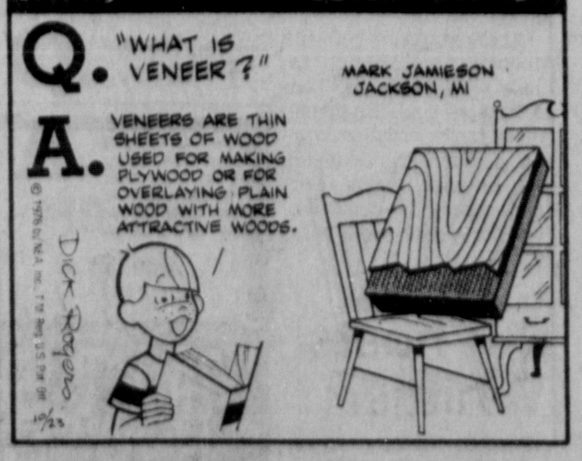
Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER



Not all wood that goes into making beautiful furniture shows on the outside. Furniture manufacturers often glue thin sheets of costlier woods over plain wood to give the furniture a more attractive and expensive-looking surface.

This thin layer of wood is called a veneer (pronounced vuh NEER). Veneers for making furniture are cut from such woods as walnut, rosewoods, maple and mahogany. The grain in these woods can be matched to create beautiful patterns.

Probably the most important use of veneer is in making plywood. Plywood is a sandwich of an odd number of thin layers, or plies, of veneer glued together. Most plywood veneer is made from fir trees.

To make plywood veneer the bark is peeled off and the veneer log is given a hot steam bath to soften the wood. The log is then turned in a huge lathe against a sharp knife, which shaves off a continuous sheet of veneer much as we unwind a ribbon.

Here's wonderful news! A pocket radio, camera, World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send you question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

Robbery, extortion suspects to appear in court Wednesday

Two persons arrested this week as suspects in the Monday robbery, kidnapping and attempted extortion plot against a Chino rancher are scheduled to appear Wednesday in the Chino Municipal Court for bail and preliminary hearings.

The suspects, Guthrie Danowski, 21, of Fontana and Glenna Gibson, 21, of Chino, were charged with four counts of robbery, two counts of burglary, three counts of false imprisonment and one count of armed robbery for the purpose of extortion when they appeared for arraignment this week before Judge Philip Schaefer.

Both suspects remained in custody of the San Bernardino County sheriff's office in lieu of $100,000 bail each.

Sheriff's investigators reported they are still seeking two other men for questioning in the case.

The suspects are accused of holding at gunpoint the family of Theodore Wilton, ranch manager of Chino Farms, as a means of luring Ben Ingbar, ranch owner, to the Chino ranch and then seeking to rob Ingbar.

Ingbar was escorted to a Chino bank by two persons and directed to make a large withdrawal, said officers. But instead, the ranch owner told the bank teller he had been kidnapped and three persons were held as hostages at his ranch.

Bank employes called Chino police, who then alerted sheriff's deputies of the plot.

Before Chino police could arrive at the bank, the two persons with Ingbar fled on foot. But law enforcement officers sent to the ranch home said Danowski surrendered after they had surrounded the structure. All the hostages were released unharmed.

Miss Gibson was arrested later at the sheriff's office in Ontario, said investigators.

Patient held in slaying

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A patient at County-USC Medical Center has been booked for investigation of murder in connection with the death of a security guard.

Byron Paul Wilson, 25, of Inglewood, was booked Wednesday in the murder of Fortune Kelly, 51, who was slain during a burglary attempt Sunday.

Authorities said a trail of blood leading away from the death scene led officials to check hospitals in search of a wounded person who might have been involved in the shooting.

Air rides will be given Nov. 6

The San Gabriel Valley 99's, an international nonprofit organization of licensed women pilots, will offer air rides Nov. 6 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Cable Airport in Upland.

Proceeds will support youth activities.

Cost of a ride will be three cents per pound, with a minimum of $3 per person.

For Ontario babysitter

Preliminary hearing begins

A preliminary hearing for a 17-year-old Ontario youth accused of beating a 3-year-old child to death while babysitting has begun in West Valley Municipal Court before Judge Dyson Cox.

The youth, Dennis Ray Ortiz, was arrested by Ontario police on Sept. 12 after Anthony Padilla, son of Mrs. Mary Arlene Padilla, 1118 S. Greenwood Ave., Ontario, succumbed to multiple injuries.

The youth was first released to juvenile authorities for disposition. Juvenile authorities, because of the nature of the alleged crime and the youth's record, recommended the youth be tried as an adult. He was then arraigned in the Municipal Court on a charge of murder. The preliminary hearing began shortly thereafter.

Police said that on Sept. 12 they were called to the Padilla home where the tiny boy lay motionless on a bed. Paramedics could find no heartbeat or respiration, and despite their efforts could not revive him. The boy appeared to have numerous bruises and abrasions about his face and chest.

Police learned the baby had been left in the care of Ortiz, a friend of Mrs. Padilla, while Mrs. Padilla went to a drive-in theater.

Mrs. Padilla told officers that the youth had struck the child in the past when he was at her home, but thought it was a necessary punishment. She too admitted striking the child on occasion, police said.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Feelings could run high on the job today. Try not to overreact. You could become frustrated by dinner time.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't depend on friends to show you a good time today. Your judgment is not all that good. Your trust in another could be misplaced.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) That fire you started at home yesterday is still smoldering. Don't expect the family to obey your every command today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't put anything in writing today and avoid altering anything you've previously agreed to. You'll take a loss if you do either.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Others can't be expected to help with financial problems today. You'll have to do so yourself or wait till another day.

Three biggest Baja cities now broke

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) —The three biggest cities in Baja California were described as broke today, the result of the peso devaluation and rising prices in U.S. dollars.

The financial crisis is their worst in modern history, say officials in Tijuana, Mexicali and Ensenada. City services have been cut and workers fired.

Loans have been taken out with private banks at 18 per cent in order to meet payrolls.

In Tijuana and Mexicali, appeals are being made to the federal government for aid.

The free floating of the peso Sept 1 hit hardest in cities nearest the U. S. border. As the peso was finally devalued by 37 per cent, goods and services priced in dollars became much more expensive.

A majority of the border cities do heavy business with U. S. firms and banks charging dollar prices.

The peso was devalued from 12.5 to the dollar to 19.7 and "we started losing money right off the top," Mayor Armando Gallegos of Mexicali said Thursday.

"It was just too much," said Mayor Fernando Marquez Arce of Tijuana. "We have become seriously deficit—all of us, Tijuana, Mexicali and Ensenada."

New police unit grabs attackers

SAN YSIDRO (AP) - Four police officers masquerading as illegal Mexicans were assaulted in Dead Man's Canyon two miles from the international port of entry Thursday night.

The attackers were finally taken into custody and booked in San Diego jail for investigation of armed robbery and resisting arrest. But first they allegedly jumped the officers, dressed in poor peasants' clothes, with a knife and a wide leather belt using the buckle as a weapon.

After demanding money from the officers, the three then allegedly fought before being subdued. They were identified as Francisco Vasquez Leon, 27, Mario Castillo Hernandez, 25, and Jesus Martinez Fuerta, 21, all of Tijuana, Mexico.

None of the officers was reported hurt in what was their first scrape with possible death since volunteering for the nighttime duty. A rash of attacks on illegal aliens resulted in formation of the special unit.

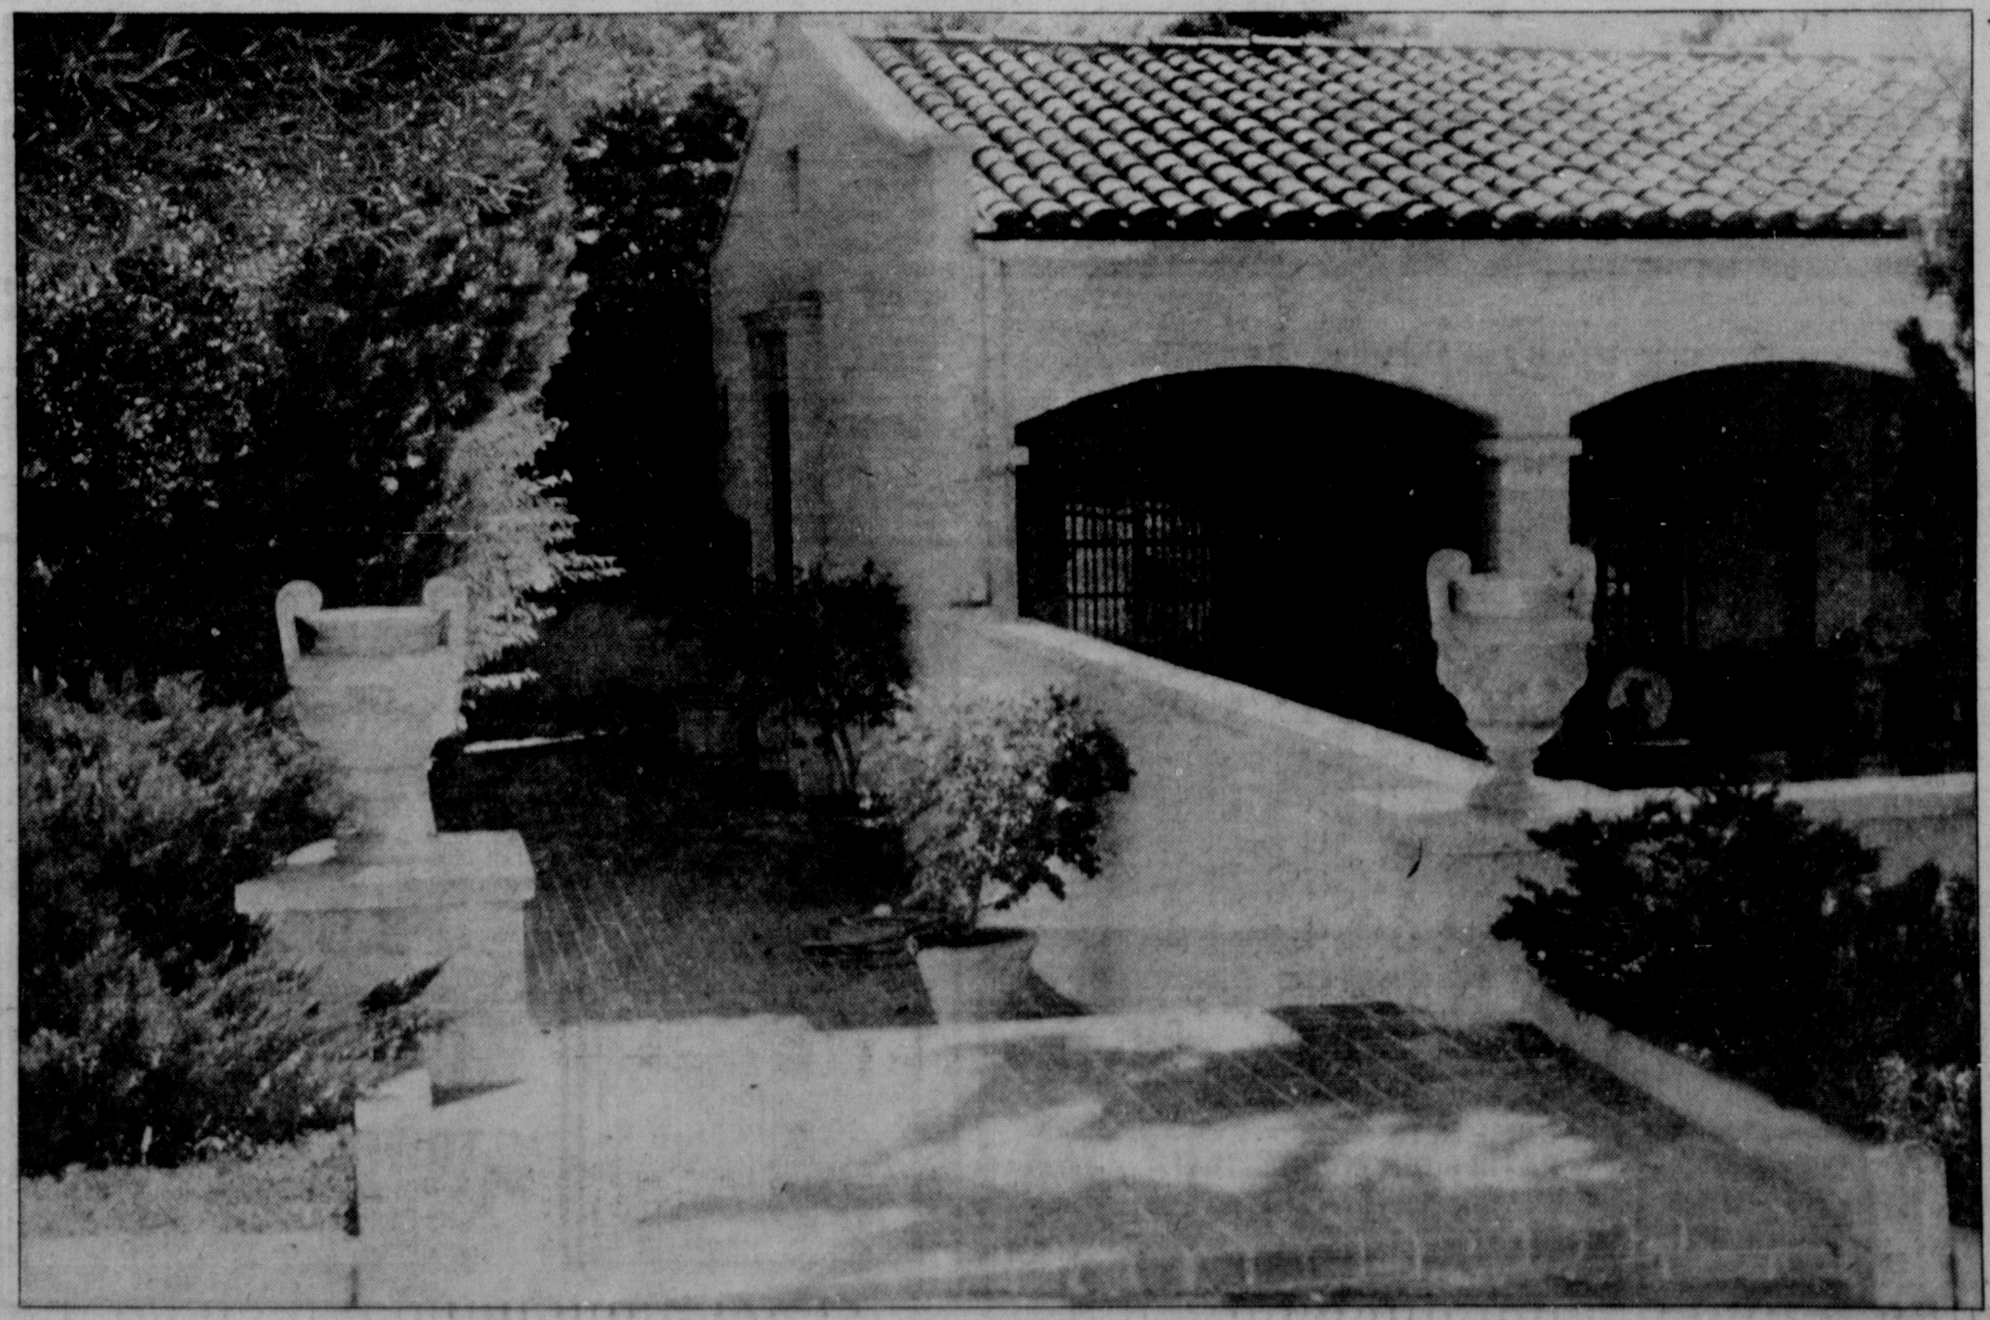
In the middle of nowhere, a priceless art collection

(Story on pages 4-5)



Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

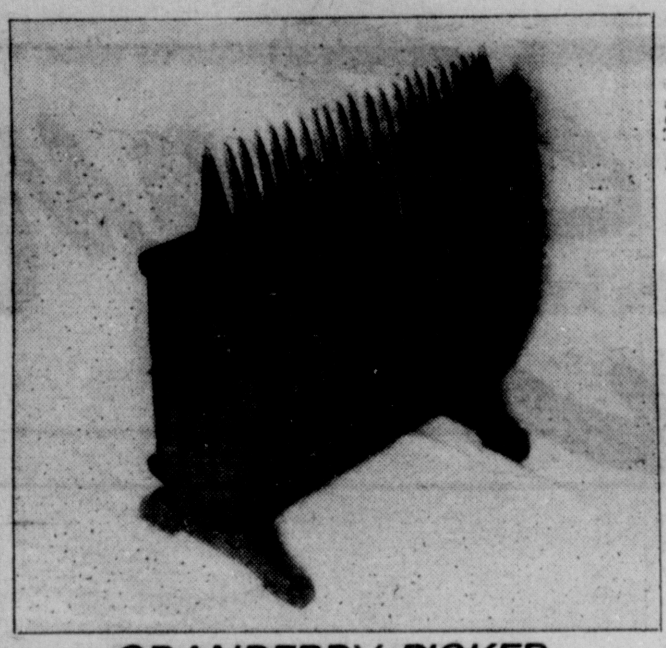
It has long been an accepted fact that pouring oil on troubled waters has a calming effect. But when the subject of pouring oil on dusty streets came up for discussion at a meeting of Pomona's Board of City Trustees on July 7, 1908, it caused a storm of protest of major proportions.

It all started when the question of oiling roadbeds was introduced by Street Superintendent Lemery, who pointed out that certain streets in Pomona were in urgent need of repair, particularly Franklin Avenue leading to the Cemetery. It was Lemery's suggestion that spreading a little oil might solve the problem. Whereupon Trustee Midley rose in righteous wrath and took caustic exception to Lemery's proposal.

"We have been advocating crushed rock and granite for good roads for months," he shouted, "and now the Street Superintendent wants to spend money on oil that doesn't amount to a damn. I say, either do the job right or let the people bite the dust."

Fortunately, however, a majority of the Board of City Trustees was not in accord with Midley's "the public be damned" attitude — particularly where it involved Franklin Avenue. Even though the dear dead departed were about to be returned to the dust, cooler heads reasoned, why should the mourners on their way to the Cemetery to pay their last respects be forced to bite the dust before their time? A vote was taken and it was decided that a bit of oil would be advisable until such time as Franklin Avenue could be paved with crushed rock and granite instead of good intentions.

A few minutes later, however, all was peace and harmony and unanimous agreement at that July 7, 1908, Pomona Board of City Trustees meeting. And why not in view of the fact that a Mr. White was offering to make enlarged photographs of the Board of Trustees without cost to the city officials provided they would hang the pictures in prominent places and do their part to advertise the business?



CRANBERRY PICKER

Antique-wise

Old cranberry picker keepsake

By DOROTHY HAMMOND

QUESTION: How valuable is this old pine and maple cranberry picker? Recently we added wooden ends in order to transform it into an interesting magazine rack. The rack stands 21 inches tall (before the ends were added), is 19½ inches wide and 9 inches deep, which includes the handle portion. The section that held the cranberries is 7 inches deep, and the bottom is heavy tin. On one side it is marked "F. L. Buckingham Mfg., Plymouth, Massachusetts." This picker is in excellent shape, including all 20 maple teeth. — A.L.N.

ANSWER: The value of your handsome old cranberry picker is around $125-$150.

QUESTION: We would like to know the approximate value of a magnificent bronze figure we inherited about ten years ago. This is a stalking bronze lioness 15½ inches in length and signed "Barye." — T.Y.

ANSWER: Prices range from about $450 upward to around $600.

QUESTION: Although I know nothing about antiques, I do enjoy reading about all the precious and beautiful treasures others have.

Now, I have a question about something we would like to know more about — an early breadplate. This is a 19th century centennial piece of glass, in the "Liberty Bell" pattern. This plate belonged to my parents and is almost 101 years old. How valuable is it? — Mrs. M.L.S.

ANSWER: If perfect, such as yours are selling from $45 to $65, with the larger size fetching the greatest amount. These were made for the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition of 1876 and continued to be made through the Columbian Exposition of 1893. Most of these glass plates — like your example — were produced by the firm of Gillinder & Sons of Philadelphia. Because of their historical significance, they have been extremely popular collectibles this Bicentennial Year.

Stamps in the news

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

To hail the 50th anniversary of air communication linking Australia and the Pacific islands, the postal authorities of Papua-New Guinea have issued two new stamps. The first such exploratory flight took place in September 1926.

Prior to this aerial trip, flying in the Pacific was prohibited as there was no experience or knowledge available on tropical conditions. The only means of transport was by ocean liners and this was a slow process as the mail and messages would be out of date by the time received.

The aircraft used on the initial flight was a converted De Havilland floatplane. Although no mail service was advertised, a small parcel of special envelopes showing a seaplane over the route was carried and some were posted. The first official airmail between Australia and Papua-New Guinea did not take place until July 1934.

The De Havilland's flight covered 5,340 miles from Melbourne to the Solomons in 43 days. The main landing points included Daru, Port Moresby, Samarai, Morobe, Finschaven, Rabual, Kieta, Honiara and Tulagi.

The new stamps come in two designs. The lower value shows the plane in flight over a map of the area while the higher value depicts the plane making a landing at one of the islands.

Also on the catalog beat, Volume II of Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue is now off the presses. It opens with the French Territory of the Afars and the Issas (on Africa's Somali coast) and closes with Funchal, the Madeira seaport.

Viktor Korchnoi, the Soviet grandmaster who "defected" to the Netherlands, may have his troubles wherever he goes.

In an interview printed in the Washington Post, Feb. 18, 1974, Korchnoi said: . . . "what the United States lacks is powerful authority. Liberties are too much for the people because even the President himself is wounded by public opinion . . ."

"Nixon," he said, "should make them who condemned him to leave the country. It's nonsense to condemn the President. Why recall it again and again? . . ."

The majority of Americans would not agree with Mr. Korchnoi, who apparently has a talent for putting his foot in his mouth.

CHAMPION LOSES

There has not been a world champion like Anatoly Karpov since the great Cuban Jose Capablanca. No one loses as few games. When he does, it is news!

Here is the last phase of his loss to the Philippine star Eugenio Torre.

At the end, if Karpov had played 49.N-N1, instead of resigning, Torre would have threatened mate with 49 . . . Q-B7. Though Karpov could defend that threat with 50.Q-R4ch,K-K3; 51.Q-R6ch, P-B3; 52.Q-B1, Torre would then have played 52 . . . Q-B7! with an easy win to follow.

Wandering through the fields and orchards of verdant Cherry Valley in the foothills of the San Bernardino Mountains a few miles north of Beaumont, one would expect to come upon a ranch, a pleasant home, a farmhouse. But the casual visitor would be understandably thunderstruck to encounter a small structure built on classic Roman lines in the midst of 16 acres of formal gardens and pools — housing a multimillion dollar art collection.

This is the Edward-Dean Museum of Decorative Arts, part of—indeed, the heart of the Riverside County Art and Cultural Center, displaying ancient Roman statuary, fine crystalware, Ming plates, Oriental rugs and tapestries, priceless antique furniture and paintings by Van Dyke, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Rembrandt Peale and other masters.

How did this vast collection of art come to be accumulated, and how did it end up where it is — which is nowhere.

Years ago two millionaire business partners and art lovers, J. Edward Eberle and Dean W. Stout, purchased the 16-acre site for a weekend retreat. To house their huge collection of antiques, they built a handsome art gallery on the property. In 1958 they added the south wing and opened the building to the public three days a week. Six years later the partners deeded the grounds, buildings and art treasures to Riverside County as a public trust. (Stout died a few years later; Eberle is a life member of the board of directors of the art and cultural center.)

The pride of the museum is the gracious Grinling Gibbons Pine Room, circa 1680, once the state bedroom of Cassiobury Park, home of the Earl of Essex. It was purchased by William Randolph Hearst when Cassiobury Park was dismantled following World War I. Hearst had it installed in a Santa Monica beach house for Marion Davies. When that home was demolished in 1957, Eberle bought the Pine Room for the museum, then under construction.

The museum founders have created a handsome and inviting room by arranging the rare antiques in conversational groupings rather than in the formalized arrangements of many museums. Highlights of the room are Gibbons' beautifully carved

ON THE COVER

The Edward-Dean Museum of Decorative Arts, the jewel of the Riverside County Art and Cultural Center, is located in the rolling hills a few miles north of Beaumont. The repository of anitques, jewelry, handsome furniture and rare paintings, the museum is open to the public without charge daily except Monday. Antique urns, busts and statues line the walks and formal gardens that surround the museum.

paneling, a huge 19th Century Ispahan carpet of Sarouk design, the 18th Century Waterford crystal chandelier, and paintings by Van Dyke, Bassano and Sir Peter Lely.

The superb Blue Room is dominated by a 18th Century mantel of Georgean design, a rare Broadwood pianoforte, one of six in existence, a pair of George II cabinets made of Norwegian pine, and a Dutch marquetry secretary, circa 1710, containing collections of watches, carved jade, carnelian pieces and French and Spanish porcelains. On the wall hangs a portrait of Mrs. Siddons by Reynolds, and between two Bergere chairs stands an inlaid lacquer table that once belonged to British actress Ellen Terry.

The Gallery, a long, stately room, contains paintings, furniture and porcelains from the 16th Century to the present. Reynolds' portrait of David Garrick is highlighted. The Oriental Room, so-called from the 12 scrolls dated 1640 and a Japanese screen of the Tokugawa period, also houses a Regency chair by Thomas Hope made for Lord Nelson. In an alcove stands a bronze statue of Icarus by Bernenvitz, formerly in the collection of Herman Goering. The Oak Room contains fine old glass, Ming plates, Capo di Monte vases, and an outstanding collection of miniatures painted on ivory.

On the ground floor the museum is a reference library a small, book-lined room with deep carpeting and handsome furniture. The library's extensive collection on the decorative arts is made available to scholars, students, art historians and members of the Friends of the Library, the support organization. A feature of the library is the heroic painting of Hermes that covers the 17th Century door from Holland. The library also displays a white marble bust of Napoleon from the collection of the Duke of Wellington.

In addition to tours of the museum, the Riverside Art and Cultural Center offers a year-round program of workshops, lectures, film showings, art shows and demonstrations.

Director of the museum is Mary Jo O'Neill. The museum is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Monday. Admission is free. Bus and school groups can make advance arrangements by calling 845-2626.

Grand opening of firm's second sales location

Many attractively furnished models of mobile homes are open to the public this weekend as Upland Mobile Homes, Inc., celebrates the grand opening of its second sales location.

Mobile homes designed and built by Golden West Homes will be displayed at the new sales center, 4300 Holt Blvd., Montclair, and at the existing location, 1425 W. Foothill Blvd., Upland.

"All of the models are furnished to give the buyer a more realistic perspective of what a finished home will look like," said Don Berman, an owner.

"Upland Mobile Homes, feature only Golden West products because they share our same philosophies concerning customer satisfaction, honest sales practices and a unique service program." added Phil Valvo Sr., also an owner.

Golden West Homes to be displayed include the Key Biscayne, Key West, Calypso, Sunnybrook, Somerset and the new 1,975-square-foot Country Estate models.

The Country Estate design offers features usually found in $80,000 to $100,000 conventional homes. It includes a bonus room which the owner can use as an atrium, hobby room or library, a king-sized master bedroom and bath and an elaborate kitchen with a breakfast nook, wet bar and butcher-block center island.

"In addition to innovative ideas to improve the homes each year, Golden West builds homes with good quality control to eliminate most problems after the home is delivered to the customer," said Berman.

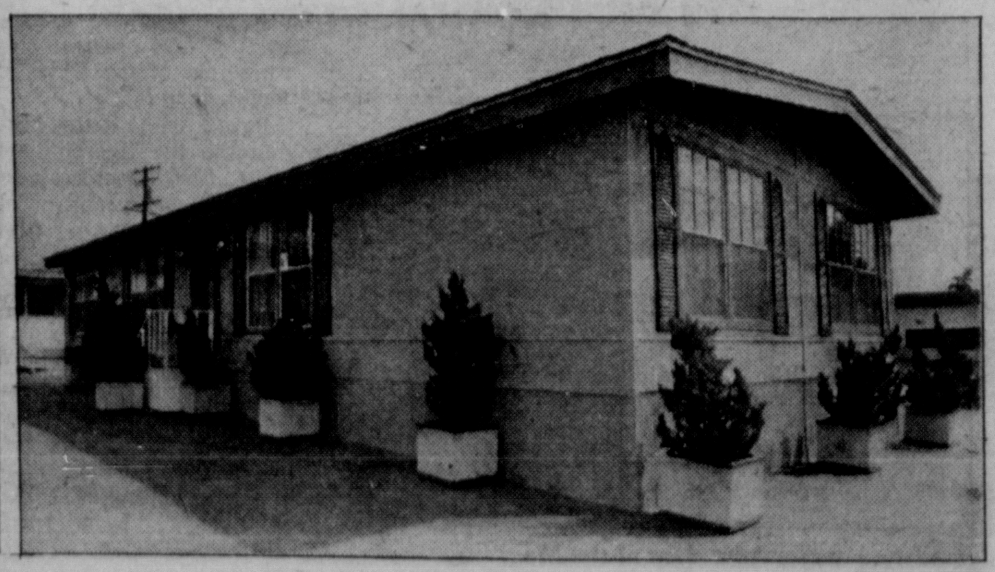
Golden West and Upland Mobile Homes offer a unique "Golden Touch" service program for customers. The day a home is occupied, Upland's service coordinator goes through the home with the customer, checking it completely for any problems.

"But we know that the customer may discover some additional problems after living in the home for a short time," added Valvo, "So the service coordinator returns and inspects the home again within 45 to 60 days."

Upland Mobile Homes operates its own set-up and service department. Once homes are on their site, they are carpeted and checked.

"We believe in treating a buyer just as we expect to be treated," both owners said. "We post prices in every mobile home. The price lists all the exterior accessories, delivered and installed."

Spacious mobile home kitchen features a curved breakfast bar.



Upland Mobile Homes Inc., has furnished models open to the public.

Spirit Week

PC celebrates for a week

By SUSAN BERGMANN
Pomona Catholic

This week was Spirit Week at Pomona Catholic High School. Each day, special things were going on to generate spirit within the school.

Monday was School Pride Day. School colors green and white, or individual class colors were worn. Each class had its own trash can which was decorated before school. After lunch the ASB held a mini-rally to get people to clean up the school.

Tuesday was Careers Day. Girls wore the outfit of the occupation they wished to go into, or an occupation that interested them. Girls dressed as firemen, policemen, farmers, housewives, nuns, athletes, and many more, while three teachers dressed as students.

Wednesday was called Pacer Day. Tennis shoes and hats were worn to help interest students in the new school symbol, the Pacer. The annual homecoming rally was also held. Seniors performed a skit, "International Homecoming."

On Thursday, girls dressed as celebrities for Movie Star Day. There were many famous people walking around from the Beatles to the Marx Brothers.

Friday was Backwards Day. Clothes were worn backwards and inside-out to get people interested and excited for Friday's homecoming game.

Gary seniors pick class personalities

By RAYMOND WILLHITE
Garey Correspondent

Garey High School class personalities for 1977 have been chosen.

The process in which the personalities were picked depended on two different voting periods. In the first, write-in ballots were handed out to all seniors. On the ballots the students were to put down the names of any six seniors, three males and three females, in each of the categories.

After ballots were counted, the top six names which appeared the most often in each group were printed on a second and final ballot.

In this selection, students were to choose only one male and one female in each category.

Senior adviser Joel Wiese then tabulated all votes and class personalities were named.

They are class wit, Lisa Farris and James Lofton; best looking, Letty Salazar and Al Clay; most likely to succeed, Amy Mukai and Phillip Lee; Ideal girl and guy, Sandy Trockel and Jim Walters and Rosie Briseno and Tino Gonzales.

Most spirited, Lilia Ruiz and Ralph Dixon; most athletic, Karen Rich and Chris Davis; best personality, Shelly Farris and David Tynes; shy but likeable, Lupe Gonzales and Timmy Quiroga; most talented, Leanne Castro and Mike Lopes; loudest, Andrea Mathews and Herbie Banks; Class flirt, Cora Prendiz and Rodney Rodriguea; class leader, Leanne Castro and Cedrick Carter and class brain, Amy Mukai and Raymond Willhite.

All-boy choir may hear new drummer

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — The elementary school all-boy choir here won't be singing in this year's annual Christmas show. And a sex discrimination dispute may mean the choir won't sing again at all.

The chorus group of fifth-and sixth-grade boys has been disbanded until the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare rules on whether the choir discriminates against girls, choral director Robert Zysk said Sunday.

Zysk, who founded the chorus in 1974 to encourage boys to sing, said the chorus won the interest of many boys who would have been too embarrassed to sing in a coeducational group.

Ganesha ranks in math exams

By MELISSA CLESCERI
Ganesha Correspondent

Six Ganesha students participated in the 24th annual mathematics examination.

Ganesha ranked 44th among 145 participating schools from San Luis Obispo to the Mexican border. They score higher than 14 other schools in our area including Walnut, Glendora, Chaffey and Charter Oak. Participating students were David Low, John Keyes, Carlos Laiz, Robert Zunde, Ed Bell and Long Ha.

The participating students were tested on their ability to solve problems similar to those in their own math courses. Students were also required to correctly solve problems unfamiliar to them, this to test their analitic capabilities.

The mathematics examination was sponsored by "The Mathematics Association of America," and "The Society of Acutaries" and "The Mu Alpha Theta."

The examination proved to be an educational and rewarding experience for those who participated.

Jumpmaster Ed Tompkins keeps an eye on his student and the static line that automatically pulls the chute open. Vickie Montgomery, 16,, of Springfield, Va., at left, laughs in relief after just completing her jump. When asked if she would do it again, she replied, "You bet I will!"
